We have our own definitions of what is work and what is play. To the swimmers above, the pool is inviting and tempting. Wayne Brashear, band director, has been able to successfully combine both elements. Right, it takes some work for campus groups before the play can begin! On next page, the joy, the quiet, the restfulness and the learning which takes place on our campus are signs too. Signs that we are on our way!

Free spirited students express themselves in different ways on the RUHS campus; some by dancing, some by having fun, and others by dressing up.

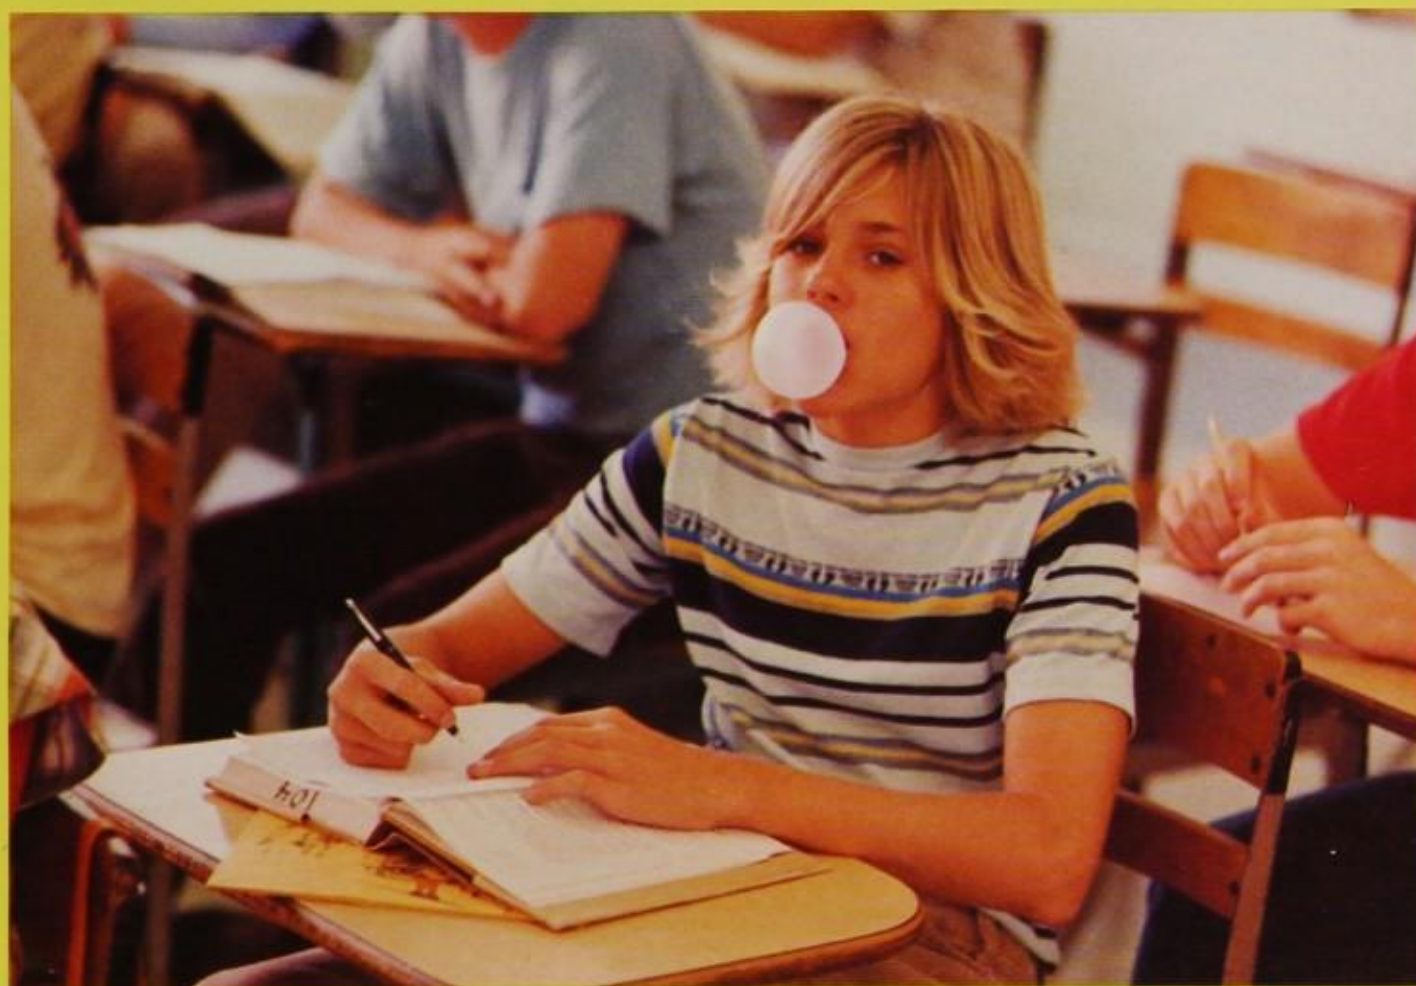

1. Are fairies invading RUHS? No, it's dance production students practicing on the boys' field.
2. Ohh, it's a happy day!
3. Gary Kingston livens up his lunch by bringing it in a Speed Buggy lunch pail.

Communication Is a Sign of Our Uniqueness . . .

We Are What We Wear...

Hats, Buttons, and T-shirts-this is how students display their own individual signs. Because we're young, we have our own language-a language as colorful as our clothes.

1. Junior Steve McKenzie looks through his glasses and sees Bobby and Billy and Sally... and if Jimmy looks in his washing machine, he'll find a present.

2. Glen Thompson, senior, reacts after passing a Roy test. That feeling stays with you all day!

3. Button, button, who has the button?

4. Ron Young... Bad Co. is good company.

5. If looks could kill...

6. Diana Kunkel, sophomore, shows her spirit with the new Redondo T-shirt.

7. Senior Melissa Endom...your bananas are showing.

Letting It All Hang Out—A Tendency of Youth—

Be what you want to be, but don't infringe on other people's need to be themselves, too. Whether it be funny hats, funny feelings, or a nutty attitude about a biology microscope, it's another sign that we can take our life as it comes; in spurts and fits of quiet, exploration and reflection. We can dictate our own way, make our own signs and exhibit them with abandon.

We Are the Signs of Our Times!

—it's a compliment to us that all the world wants to be young! We exhibit free expression, new ideas, special talents every day, and contribute these to our school and community. As Carl Pritzkat, left, will tell you, it's not hard to find a way to say how you feel; history teacher Richard McIntosh has no trouble letting his feelings be known, either!

Students Want to Rock 'n' Roll All

Somewhere, "Over the Rainbow," the annual Red and White Week was ended with a well-attended dance sponsored by Semper Comites, girls' service club.

The week itself was missing the usual activities—no slave auction, no powderpuff game, no special events. "Lack of organization and planning" was the reason given by James Keema, director of student activities.

As Tori Brillantes was crowned Spirit Queen, Renee Hattingh followed closely as princess. The court was presented with flowers and medallions as a remembrance of the occasion.

The band "Texas" played throughout the night while also helping present the court. The dance lasted from 9:30 to 12 p.m. following the Aviation football game (The Hawks lost).

Semper Comites sponsored the dance with "Over the Rainbow" as the theme. The decorations were multicolored in the Sea Hawk Pavilion.

Halloween Freak Out

Who says costumes don't reflect your personality??

A record of 12 dances in one year, of which one of the unusual dances was the Halloween Dance, shows the desire for students to dance.

Students in an array of costumes got down to the band "Giant City" who played a mix of disco and rock. Sponsored by the Entertainment Committee, the Halloween Dance was a first here in recent years.

Of the twelve dances, the first came barely two weeks after school started. The dances were: The First Chance Dance, Sept. 24; Red and White Dance, Oct. 8; Halloween Dance, Oct. 29; Three-quarters-to-go Dance—a marathon of four hours, Nov. 10; Christmas Dance, Dec. 10; Sadie Hawkins Dance, Jan. 8; Valentine Dance, Feb. 4; Feb. 25 Dance; Spring Dance, March 19; One-quarter-to-go Dance, April 15; Jr.-Sr. Prom, May 21; and the Last Chance Dance, June 3.

Senior Steve Adams cries "Help me Ronda!"

Straw hats, barefeet, overalls, bandanas, checkered shirts and dresses were all worn to the Sadie Hawkins Dance.

The dance on January 8, featured pictures with bales of hay, an outhouse, and a painted country background; and a "Hitch'n Post" for couples wishing to get hitched.

It also had a general food store, supplying food stuffs for some hungry square dancers; and had straw on the floor of the entry room.

A local night club band, Sky High, started out playing country, and slowly graduated to rock for the remainder of the dance.

This unusual dance also another first, was sponsored by "R" Club and the Booster Club, composed of parents of the members of "R" Club.

Sitting on the wall is an everyday happening, rain or shine, feet up or feet down.

Tori Brilliantes loves the rain—it means snow on local mountains.

Not only students play in the rain, so does Les Congelliere.

Splish, Splash, taking a bath!

After experiencing an almost completely dry Christmas vacation, students and faculty alike were greeted with a massive downpour that lasted almost a week.

The storm began on Tuesday, Jan. 6, and lasted through the week to dampen the campus for Thursday and Friday. P.E. classes usually held outside were told "No dress today," and everyone either scurried or played their way to class.

Walking to class in the rain can be hectic, but for freshmen it's another diversion in an otherwise dull day.

The cloudburst brought out many feelings among the student body. While some despised it because it made walking to class so difficult, others loved it because it inevitably meant snow on the local mountains.

The majority, however, was just glad that winter had finally decided to arrive.

Monday the weather was back to normal as the ominous black clouds had moved on their way.

Jim Box, sophomore, exhibits the much needed staples for any cold damp day: gloves and hot chocolate.

Due to the terrible draining problems of Sea Hawk Bowl P.E. classes using the field were cancelled.

Juniors Honor Graduates in

Sixty-one juniors with high grades and service were selected to participate in senior commencement on June 17, 1976.

David Boyd was chosen as the 1976-77 Mantle Bearer, a high honor traditionally given to the junior with the highest scholastic achievement.

On that very warm day, emotions were mixed as the seniors of '76 were bid farewell and the class of 1977 then took the position as the Senior Class.

High Tide Gets National Recognition

Lorri Weber organizes Big Bear retreat.

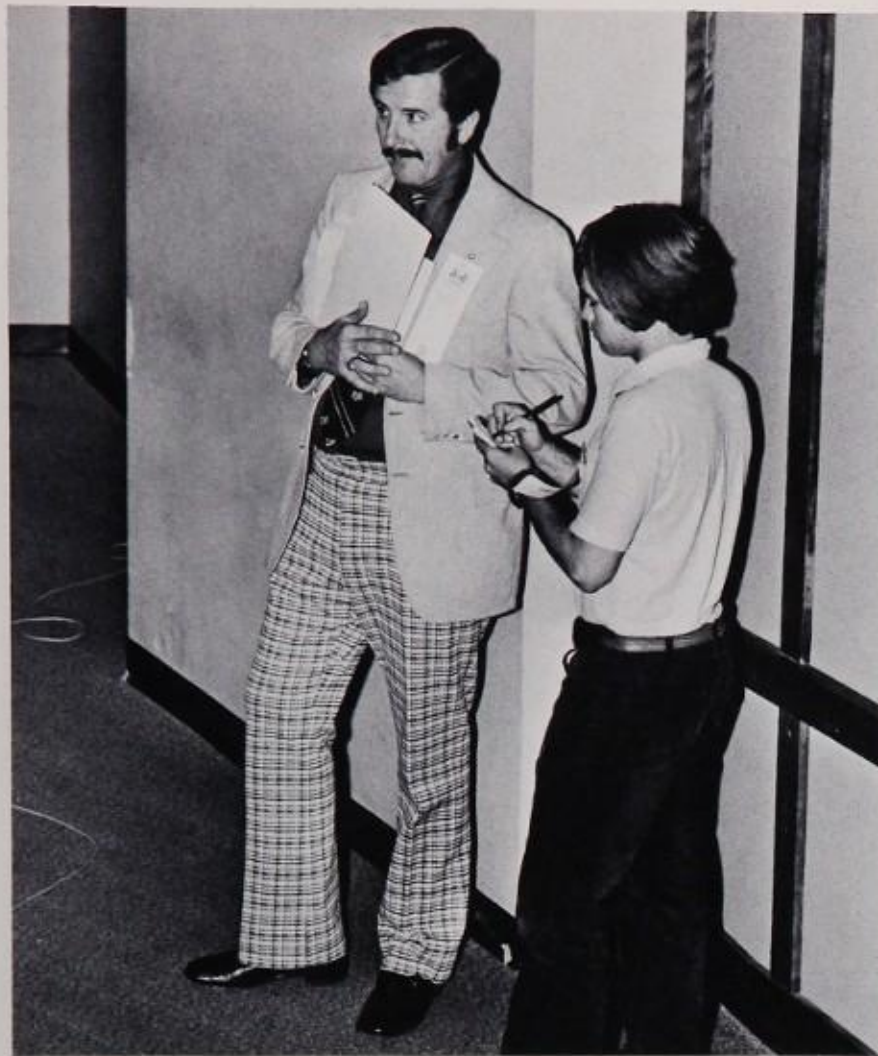

Changes take place everywhere-even in the High Tide. This year the staff decided to change the look of the paper by using a bolder nameplate and adding much more artwork. A second addition was also adding assistants to the page editors.

In its 68th year, the High Tide again won the Medalist Award from Columbia University for being one of the best high school newspapers in the nation, and was the only publication west of Texas to be so honored. With Ken Svendsen at the helm, the staff showed a lot of togetherness throughout the year. During April many took a trip up to San Francisco to participate in the National Scholastic Press Association Convention.

To help take the strain off putting out a weekly paper, the staff went Christmas caroling, acted in many athletic games with other clubs, and enjoyed several social events including a Big Bear retreat.

Student Advisory Board on education held its annual conference at Redondo March 7-11.

More than 100 students from all over the state convened on the campus to discuss various high school problems.

It was also the duty of the council to find homes for all of the students.

"It was interesting meeting a lot of new people, some you liked and some you didn't." concluded Paul Tuttle, Pilot editor.

Controversy Marks Elections

Following a rather orderly Nominating Convention on Dec. 6, general elections were held and Steve Curwick captured the presidency by only two votes over Art Villanueva.

However, the elections were declared invalid when it was learned that some students were allowed to register after the deadline. A re-election was held Jan. 6 and 7 and this time Villanueva scored a decisive victory over Curwick, 253-185.

Other top officers winners included Mark Phillips, vice-president; Kathy Klecka, secretary and Cory Conahan, treasurer.

Highlights of the convention included Sen. Ted Stevens' keynote address, skits and demonstrations supporting various candidates and colorful displays of banners and streamers by the delegations.

1. Mark Phillips. "David Cassidy ... eat your heart out!"
2. You should be dancing.
3. Craig Versteeg presents his winning platform.

State Reps See Capitol

Boys' and Girls' State, sponsored by the American Legion, was held at Sacramento State University, and upon arriving, all the representatives were split up into communities, cities, and counties. By the end of the week all the reps are functioning as a state complete with governor, officers, and citizens.

Dave Ginn was elected district attorney of his city and Melisa Endom was elected outstanding citizen of her city.

Ole is staying with Rick La Mont and his family, and says he was very lucky to get this family that he likes a lot.

He enrolled in government, history, art, video production, aeroscience, and P.E. He enjoys flying gliders, skiing, and playing volleyball.

"I like the weather and the beach, but it is harder to make friends here."

Ole speaks fluent English along with some German, French, and of course, Norwegian.

Opus Hopes for Repeat Honors

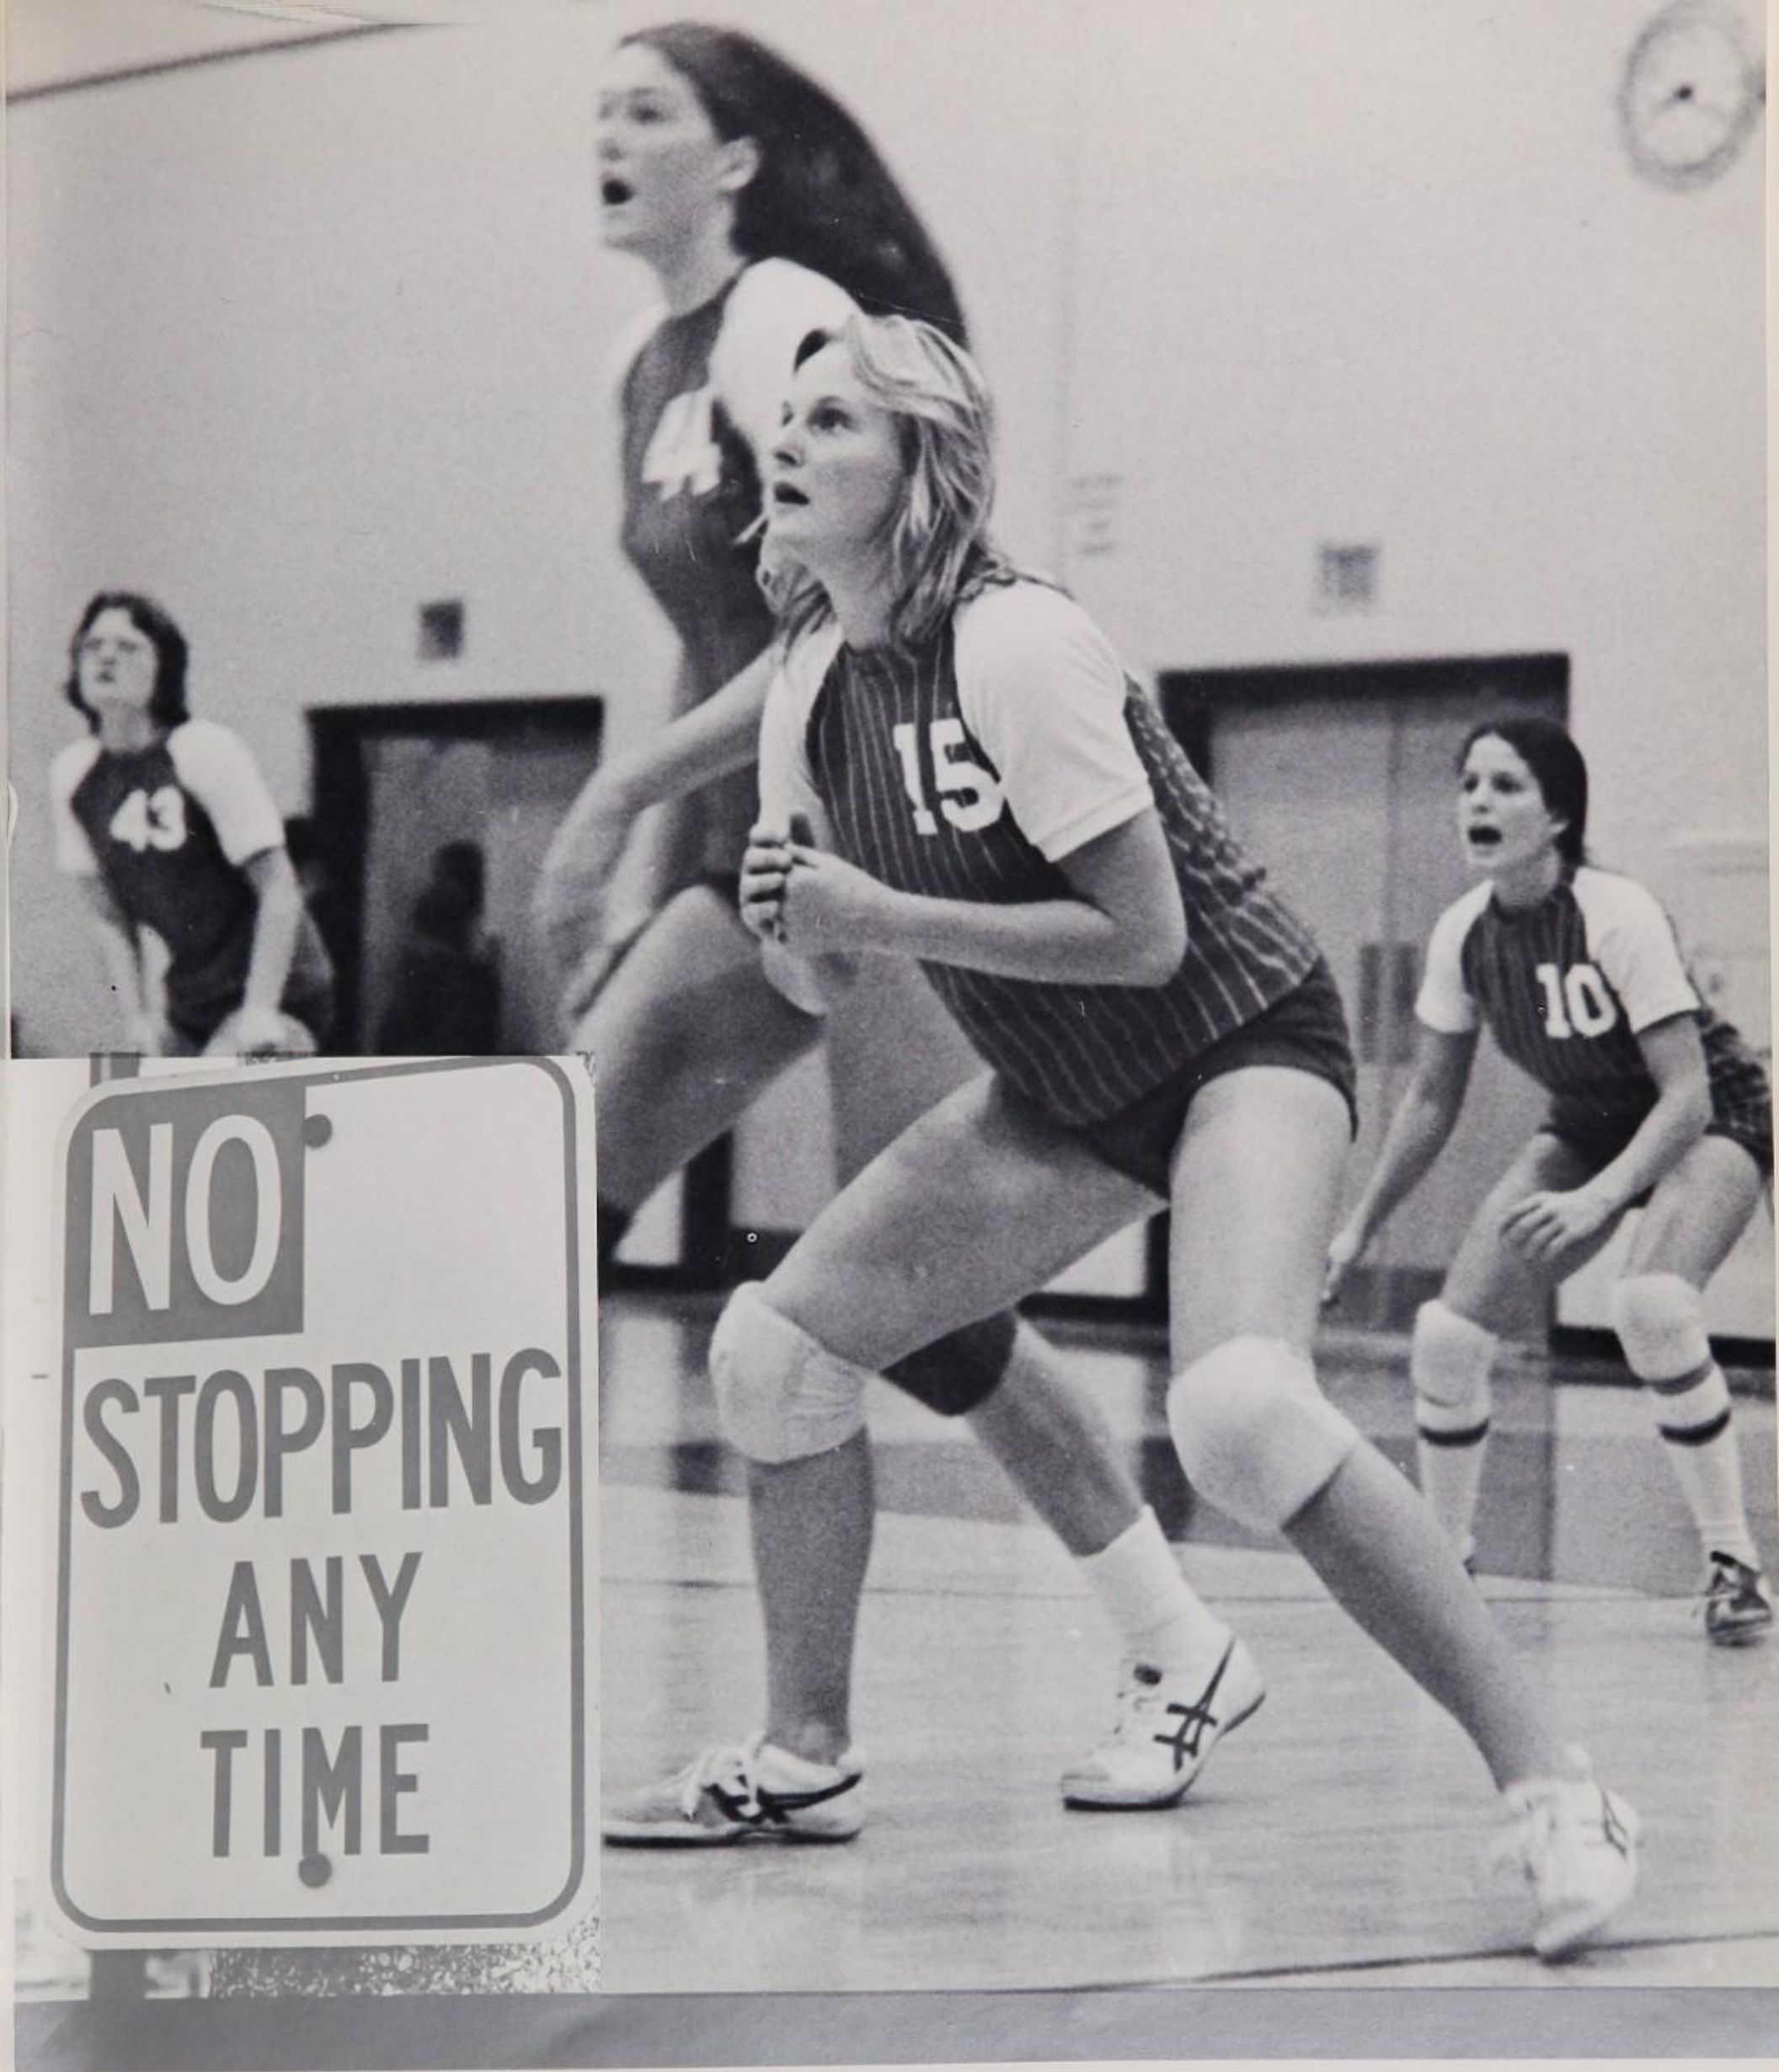

Hoping to duplicate the success of the 1976 Opus which won a first class award from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association, the Opus staff set high goals for the '77 edition.

Freshmen Show Potential

"The freshman team will probably be league contenders in their sophomore year" stated Ron Page, coach. Outstanding players are; Nick Villa, as running back, Scott Morgan, Bob Pier, Gregg Poer, as receivers.

"This is a good group of guys and they are really tough," said Coach Page.

The freshmen team ended its season with a 3-2-2 record.

Sophomores Aim For Big Wins

One of the bright spots for the sophomores this year was running back Bran Alderman. He led the sophomore team in rushing and scoring and is strong contention for a starting position for next's years varsity. Other strong players are Brad Wilson, in receiving, Steve Seppenau and Chris Blackburn, in blocking, and Dennis Gomez in defense secondary.

Hawks Try for Good Year

At the opening of this high school football season the Redondo Sea Hawk varsity was a young team that got better as the fall progressed. Many juniors were spotlighted because of the lack of seniors who tried out.

Some outstanding players were Jeff Lyle, quarterback; Steve Swain, running back; John Ellis, lineman, and Bob Cleveland, line.

Other good players were; Cliff Kealy, Mark Forbes, Dave Adamo, Ed Dixon, Tom Tomsic, Lorenzo Sanchez, Ed Cervantes, Cory Conahan, and Mike Bishop.

5. Jeff Lyle gets some blocking and some yards.

Varsity Poloists Go to CIF

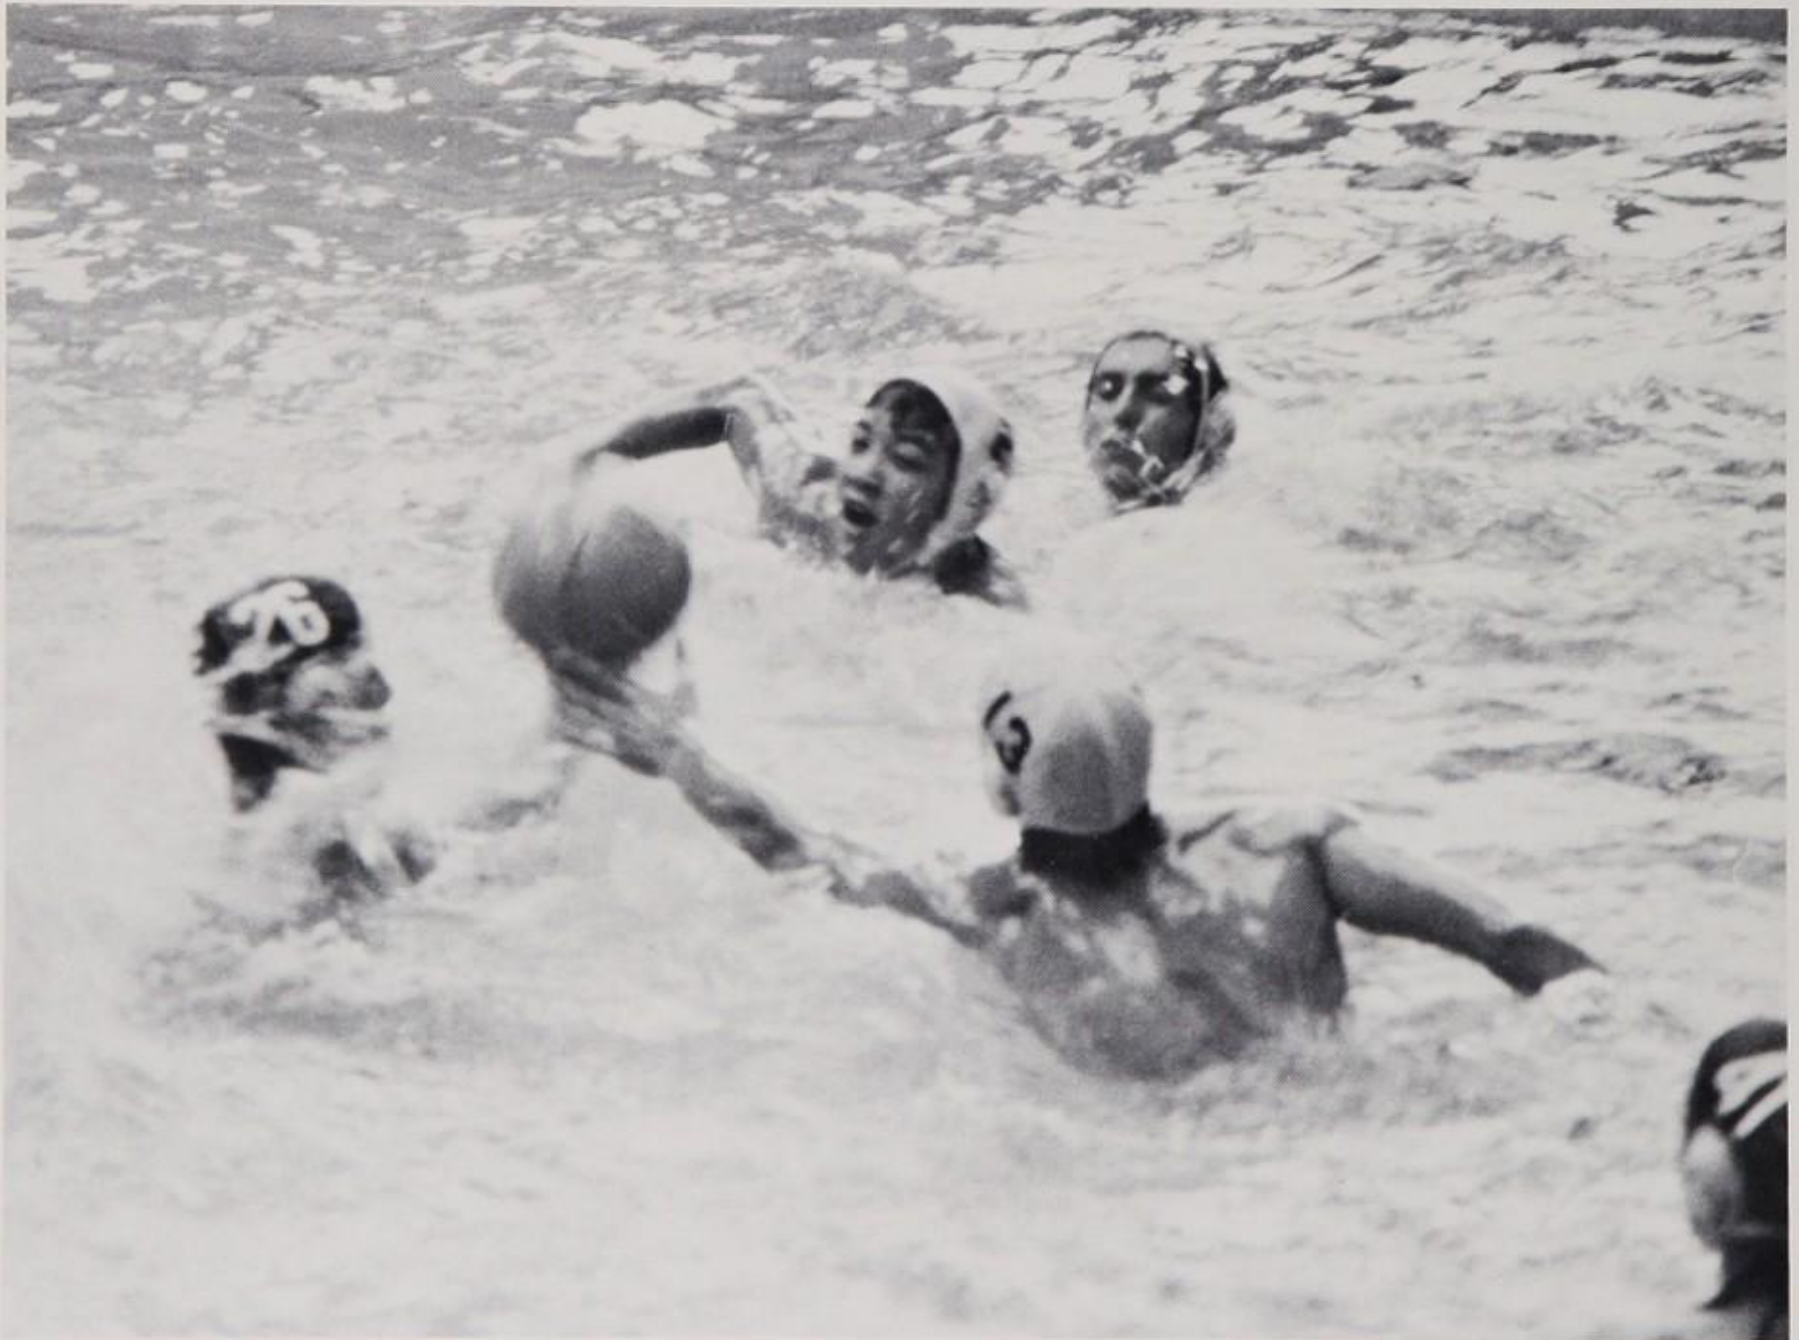

Led by seniors Paul Tuttle, Bill Harkins, Scott Thornton, Mike Harkins and junior Dan Jordan, the Hawk water polo team put together a great season with a record of 14-5.

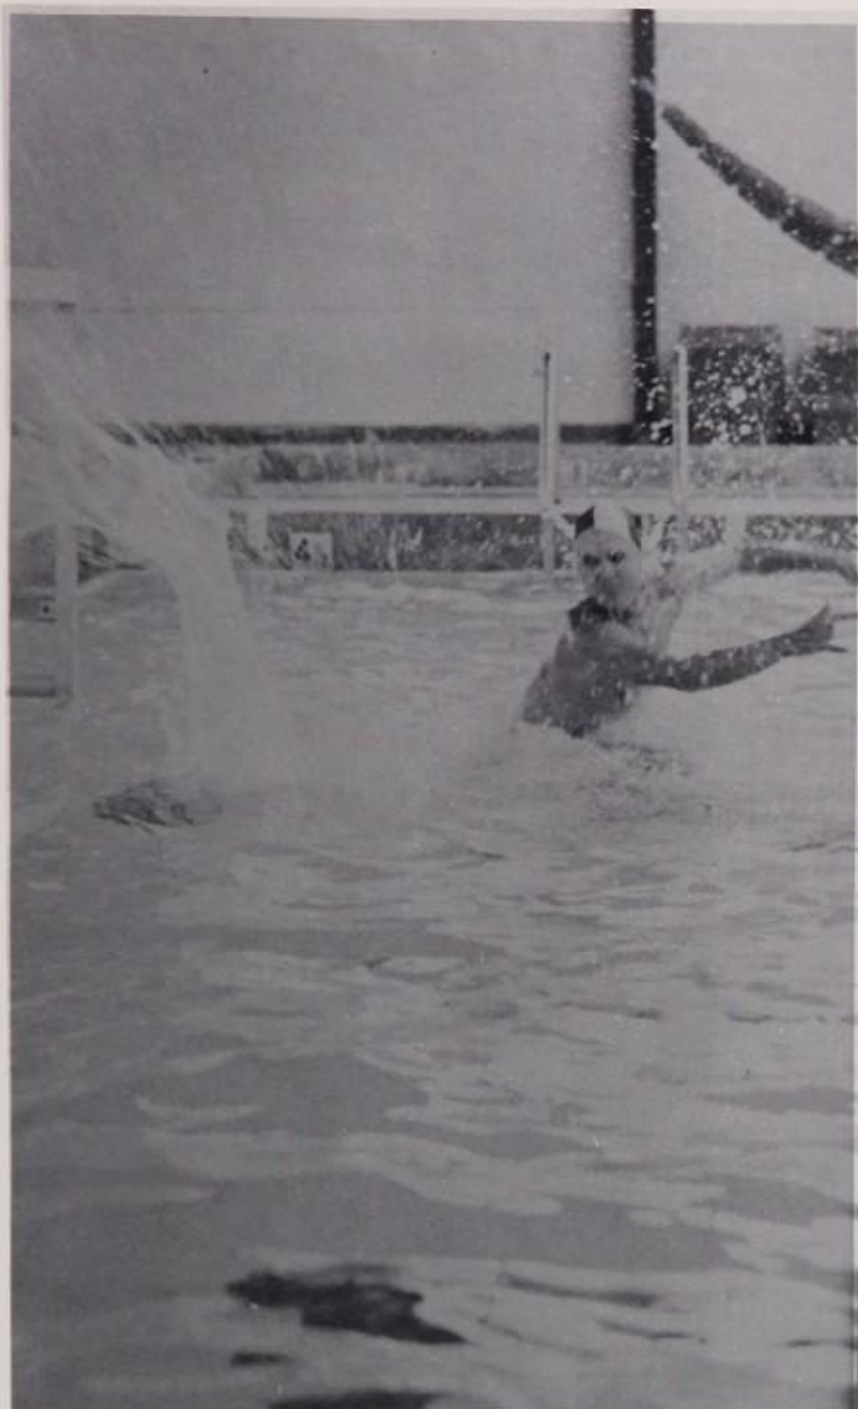

This record was good enough to give the poloists a CIF bid.

Coached by Pat Yelovich, the poloists traveled to El Camino College to challenge a tough Villa Park team.

Unfortunately, they were outscored in the third quarter and their fourth quarter rally was just not enough as the Sea Hawk poloists failed in their CIF bid losing to Villa Park 10-12.

Selected to the Pioneer League's first team were: Paul Tuttle, Mike Harkins, Scott Thornton, Bill Brook, seniors; Dan Jordan, junior and Bill Harkins was selected as the league's most valuable player.

Young Poloists Duplicate Record

Junior varsity water poloist had a good season, equaling last year's record of 8-3.

Greg Pheifer was awarded this years most valuable player award, following a great season.

The junior varsity team had many close meets including the pre-season tie with Rolling Hill, 11-11 and the lost to Burrough 8-9.

Due to lack of players on the other teams, the junior varsity team was awarded several wins because of forfeits. However many junior varsity members did receive some playing time of the varsity squad.

With many sophomore players moving up to the varsity and junior varsity teams, it is thought that these poloist will produce another fine season next year.

Frosh-Soph water polo team had a tough season with an overall racord of 6-6.

Mike Inscroe was selected as the team's MVP for his excellent play throughout much of the season.

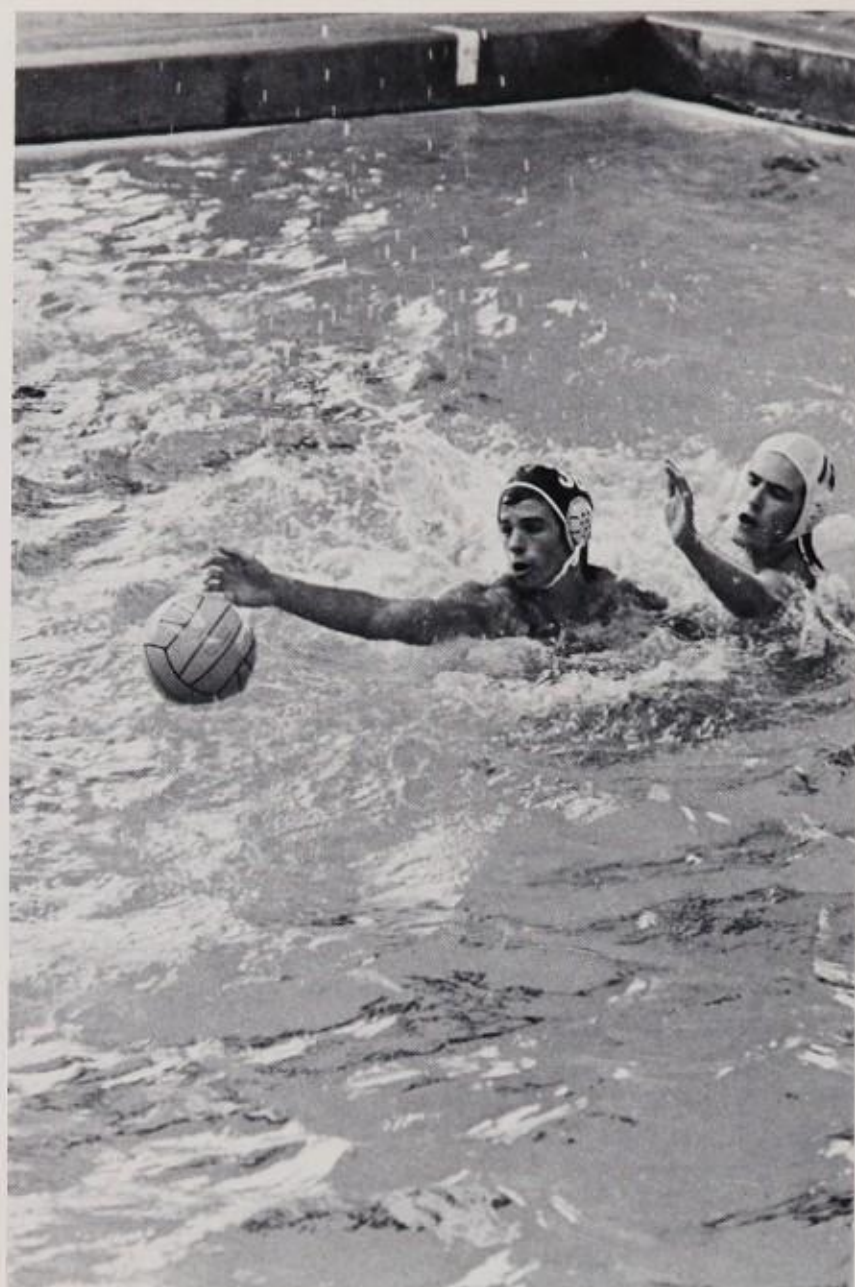

Despite the six losses, it is comforting to know that the teams biggest defeat was only 7-9.

The teams league standing was 3-3, despite its outstanding victory over Hawthorne, 14-2.

Another outstanding victory was the final game of the season, when these young poloist defeated Culver City 11-6.

It is felt that most of the sophomore players on this team will move up to the varsity and junior varsity squads next year.

Varsity Spikers Excel As League Champs

Happiness is the mood as varsity players congratulate each other after winning the first round in CIF 2-A division against L.A. Baptist.

After winning the League Championship in the 2-A division, the girls' varsity volleyball team, rated second in CIF, was defeated in the second round by La Canada. The varsity record for the league was 13-1.

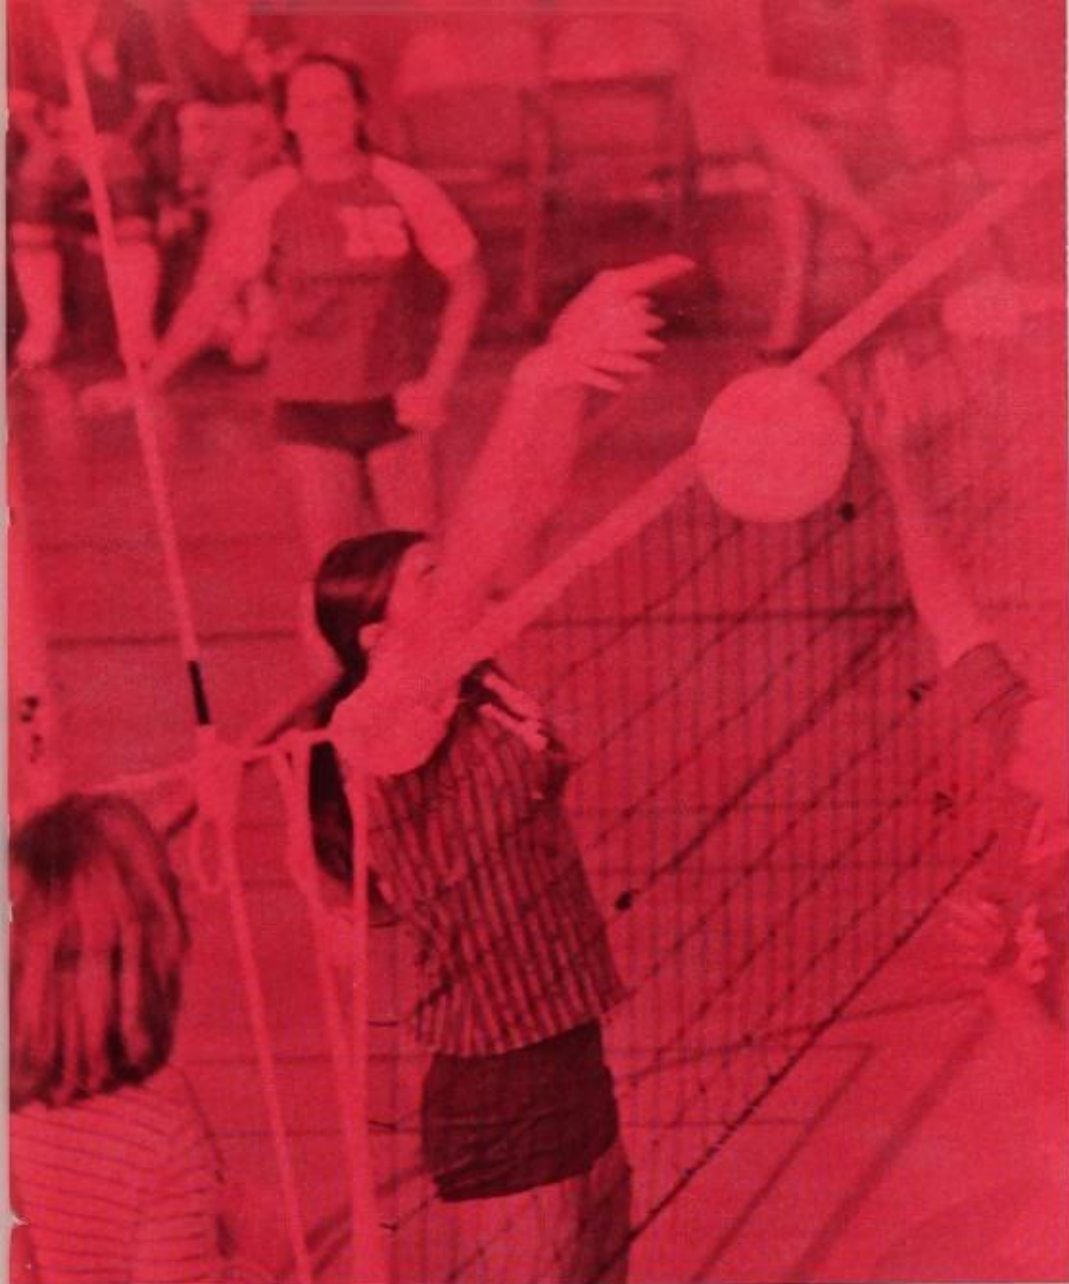

Patty Webb, junior, was MVP and also made first team all-league, along with Marlina Acosta and Deneen Jenkins, both seniors. Kiff Kimber made second team All-league.

Coach Jim Ball, varsity coach, took over for Miss Barbara Perry due to her getting injured during a volleyball game with her team, the L.A. Stars.

JV's coached by Carol Cox, came close behind varsity with 12-2 as their record. MVP for JV was Karen Hathaway.

Young Harriers Look Ahead

Another good year was put in the books for Sea Hawk runners.

The varsity cross-country came in second place in the Ocean League and qualified for the CIF preliminaries but failed to make the CIF finals. Only five out of ten teams were able to go to the finals; the Hawks came in seventh.

Sophomore Rick Diaz led the Hawk runners this year and set a new Redondo record in the 4-mile, with a time of 22:39 which bettered Tony Martin's old mark by 1:24.

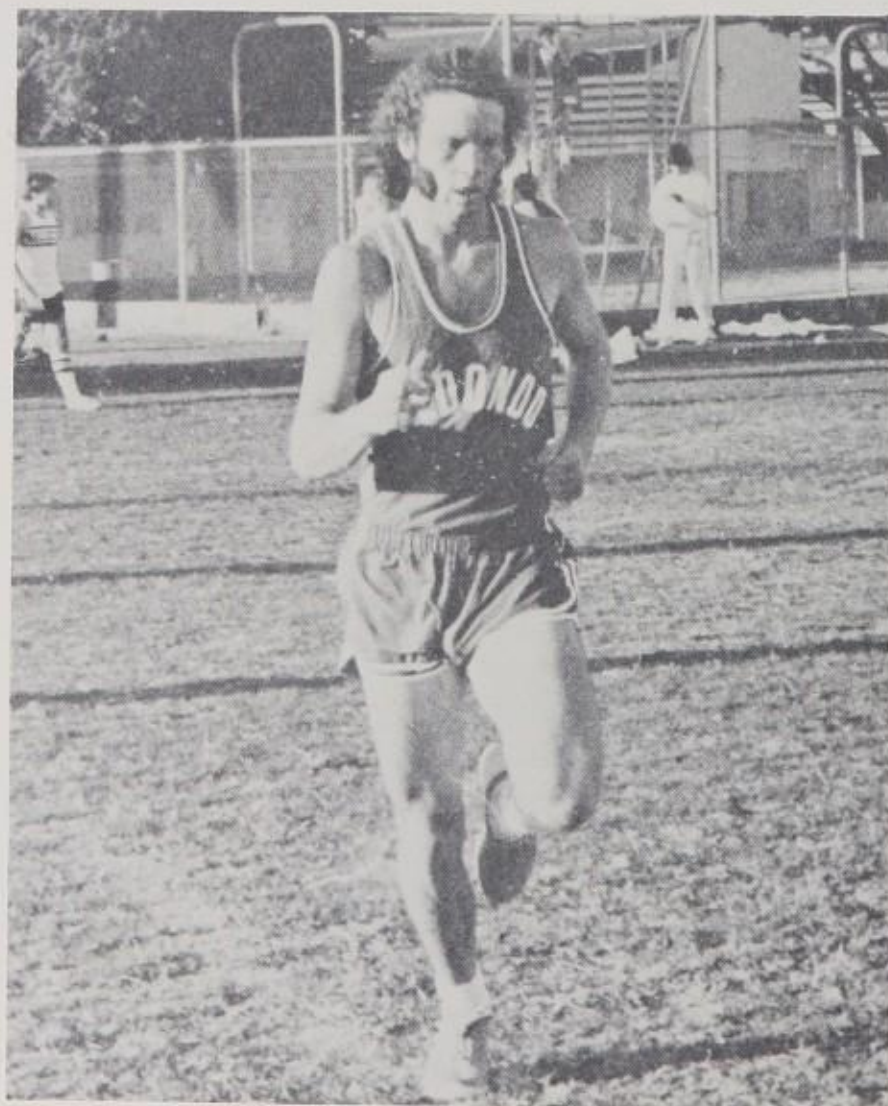

"With three returning varsity runners, Rick Diaz, Craig Gill, and Tom Hufford plus several strong sophomore and JV runners, the team should be strong and outstanding," stated Coach Howard Smith, looking ahead.

Runners Show Strength At Lower Levels

Coach Howard Smith greeted a fine turnout of young runners to launch a new era in cross country.

Strong freshman runners include Tracy Shurgot and John Adams, who sustained an injury and was out part of the season.

Juan Camacho and Bruce Brandsberg helped the sophomore team to fourth place.

For the JV's Kenny Hebert, Eddy Wheatley, and Jeff Moore will be helping the varsity out next year to another winning season.

Jean Welcome, junior and Mireille Jason, tennis team aid, displays the action and excitement after a win.

With the help of Mireille Jason, graduate of Redondo in 1971, the varsity tennis team came up with a 5-7 record in a tough Ocean League. (Last year's record was 3-7).

This year's team was very young with only two seniors leaving; Cathy Carriero, second singles player and third year varsity member and Malinda Morris, second doubles player and fourth year varsity member.

For the next year there will be 9 out of 11 varsity players coming back to play. Some including Shelly Martin, Varsity MVP, Margaret Miller, Candi Oden, Jean Welcome, Carla Hayashi, Janet Peterson and Barbara Hall.

The JV team was very disappointed with a record of 0-12. The team lost all of their matches but one, which was a practice match against Hawthorne.

Ocean League included: West, Mira Costa, Aviation North, Torrance, and Culver City.

Girls Show Strength in Big Meets

Faring well in all of the invitationals it entered, the Girls' cross country team had a bright season. Kandi Williams, junior, and Jeannie Weber, senior, placed in the top ten in all invitational competition.

"Each year the competition gets better and better," said Jeannie, one of the best runners. "More girls come out for cross country every season."

Female harriers who achieved recognition this year and will be with the team next year are Kathy Whitehead, Janice Schurgot and Kandi Williams.

100-Point Win Highlights Year for Basketbballers and Coach Dinnel

This year's basketball team had many highs and lows, a few injuries and many exciting as well as average games.

The team was led by Juniors: Kevin Tye, a 6-8 center, who helped out in rebounding and also scoring; Gary Kingston, who led the team many times in scoring, and excellent ballhandler, and often surprised crowds with his moves; Don Reynolds, also an excellent ballhandler helped bring the ball up the court, had many assists to Tye and scored points when needed.

Mike McKinney, senior, helped out in the rebounding department, along with Steve Swain, senior; both players led the team in scoring a couple of times.

Other seniors on the team: Harry Staalberg, excellent shooter, and ballhandler; Paul Spear, hustled all the time, and helped on rebounds; Dan Donaldson, excellent rebounder, ballhandler, and shooter, Craig Kargl, excellent shooter and ballhandler, Steve Adams, excellent shooter and ballhandler.

The team's best game was the 100-73 victory over North, which was Head Coach Harry Dinnel's 100th win. The most disappointing loss was to South when the Hawks lost it on a last second shot by a Spartan.

At this time the Hawks have no chance for CIF playoffs but are working for next year when their 22-2 freshman team will once again unite.

JV's Show Class in Good Season

The JV team had many outstanding players and team leaders.

Leading the team in scoring were Pete Aichinger, Robin Dreizler, Tim Fargher, and Brad Neblett. One of these players led each game in scoring. Robin Dreizler scored 20 or more points a few times as well as Aichinger, Fargher, and Neblett.

Ernie Hernandez was the ballhandler, did an excellent job bringing the ball up court and setting up the plays, and scored points when it was needed.

At this point the team has had two triple overtime games, and a few double. The league was close, any team could beat any other team, any where, home or away.

Other juniors on the team; Mike Bishop, an excellent sixth man, excellent shooter, ballhandler and scored points when needed; Sean "Doc" Docherty, helped out at center when Neblett got in foul trouble; Dave Adamo, an excellent shooter, ballhandler, and rebounder; John O'Neil, fine shooter and hustler.

The frosh and soph both had fine athletes on their respective basketball teams.

The sophomores were led by Freshman MVP last year, Clay Howard, and Jim Box. Also helping out was Paul Wiley, a freshman who came up to the sophomore team and helped out in the rebounding department.

Also helping out were Louie Areyan, Matt Carrol, Brad Wilson, and Dave Valenzuela.

The Freshman were led by Kirk Jones, and Greg Tinsman. Both Tinsman and Jones not only led the team in scoring but also in rebounding.

Other players that contributed to the team were; Bob Sinner, Gret Poer and Adam Snyder.

Kirk Jones, aggressively drives toward basket.

The varsity grapplers finished co-champions of the Ocean League, placing Ed Cervantes in the top seat. With a dual meet record of 6-1, the varsity took third place in the Centinella Valley tournament in December, and fifth place in the El Camino tourney in January.

Leading the team were Ed Cervantes, who won three tourneys, finished with a 20-2 record, and defeated the Nevada state champion in the Las Vegas tournament; John Ellis, who finished second in two tourneys, and fourth in another; Lorenzo

Sanchez who got second in two tourneys; and Brian Folkman who lost one match and finished second in two tournaments.

"Others who did well are Bill Zeller, Rick Jarrett, and Dan Lehnberg. Of the 13 starting members, 10 will be returning next year," said Coach Congelliere.

1. Mark Forbes controls his opponent in varsity match 2. Dan Lehnberg attempting to flip opponent 3. Bill Zeller gets good hold on opponent 4. Ed Cervantes goes for the take-down 5. Warren Rice controls opponent 6. Lorenzo Sanchez overturns opponent

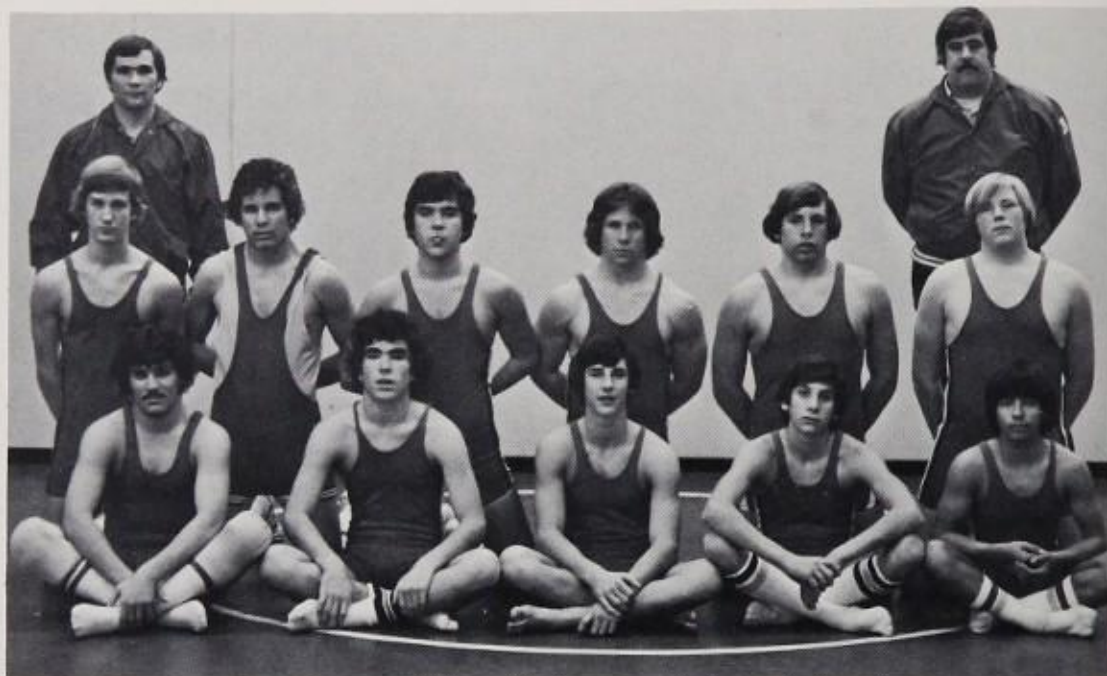

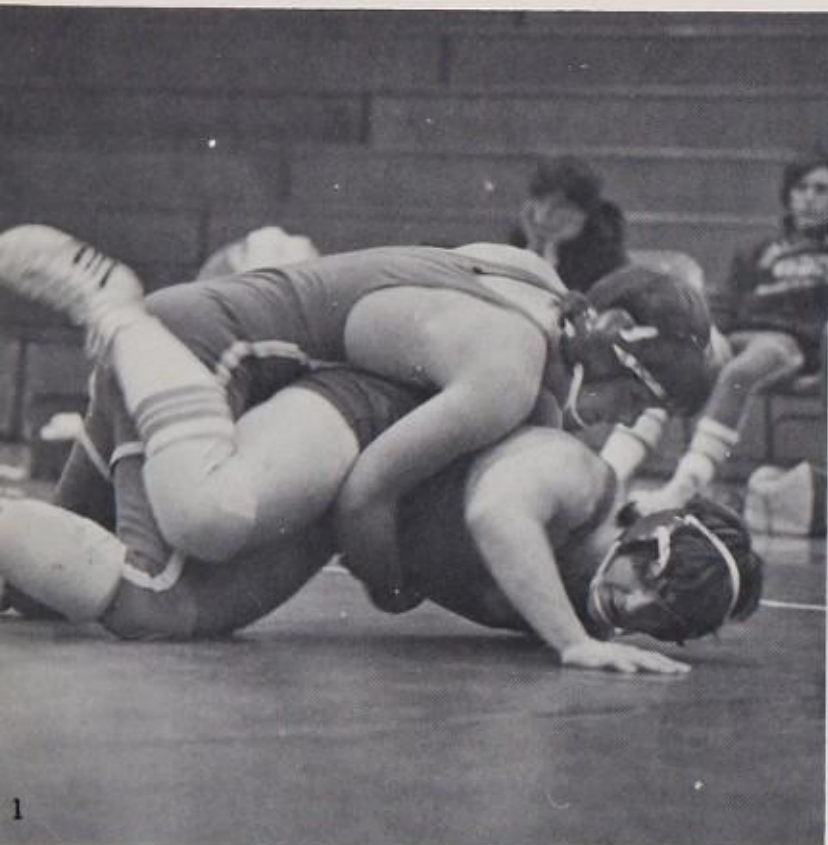

The junior varsity team also finished league champs while the frosh-soph team finished in third place with a 5-2 record. All JV members will be returning next year. Outstanding JV's were Cory Conahan, Ray Morgan, and Scott Harper; all were undefeated. "Ten starting varsity members will be coming back and the undefeated JV's will be filling in the positions," said coach Congelli. "The frosh-soph team looks very promising. Tom Royds was undefeated," he added.

The JV MVP's were Mark Forbes (who wrestled varsity twice) and Cory Conahan. Tom Royds was selected frosh-soph MVP.

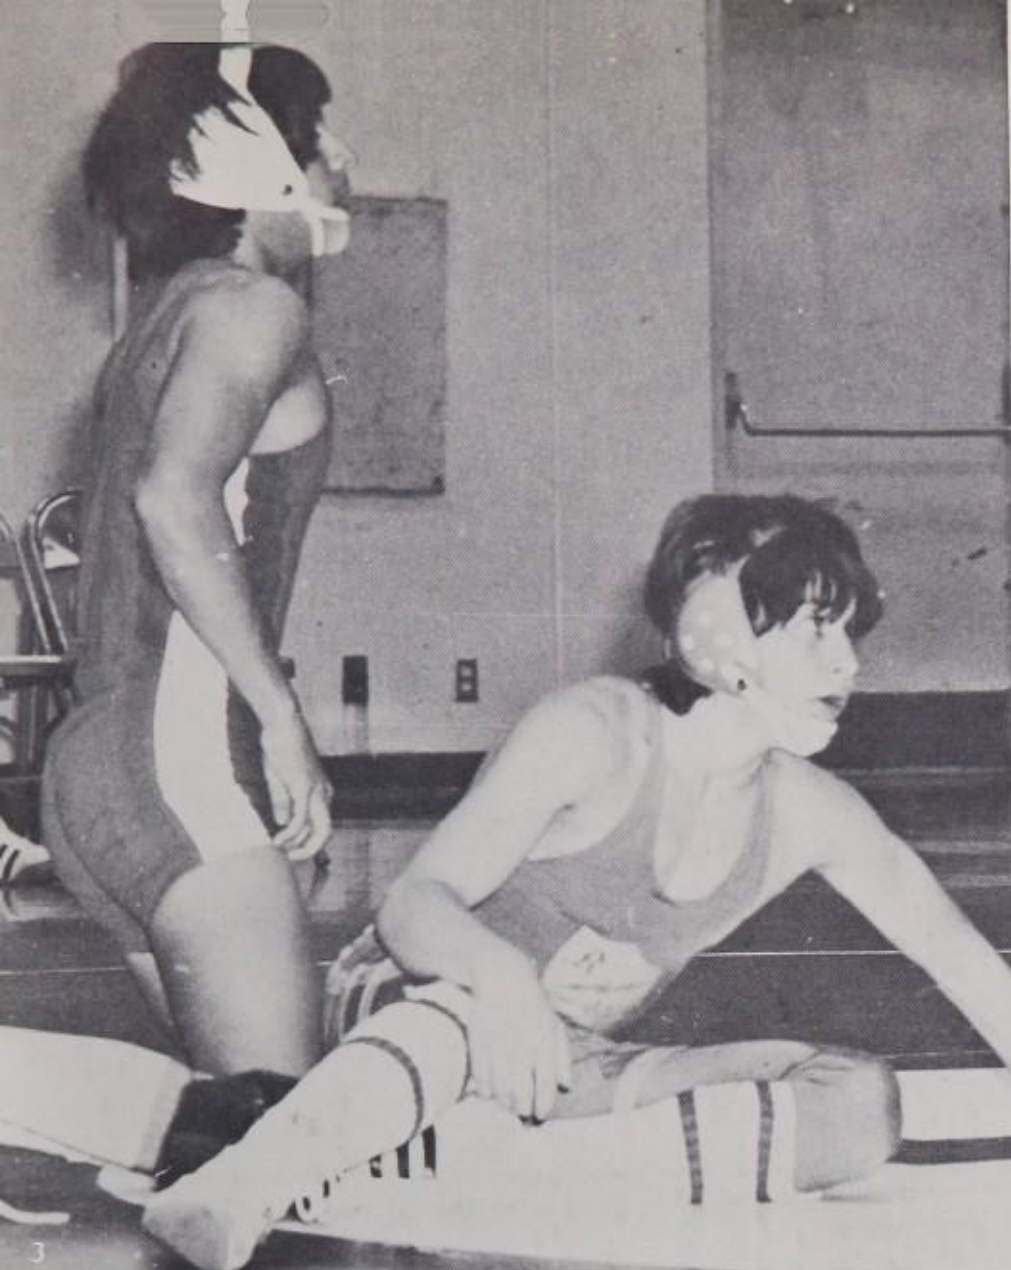

1. Cory Conahan trying to hold off opponent. 2. Junior varsity member holds opponent. 3. Randy Marin checks referees ruling. 4. The thrill of victory! 5. Tim Brookes in starting position. 6. Cory Conahan about to drive opponents shoulder to the mat.

Young Teams Looking Good in League Action

Netters Compete in Tough League— Look Towards Next Season

Led by number one man, Carlos Daniels, a relatively young varsity tennis team competed in a strong Ocean League against such teams as Aviation and South Torrance.

At the time of the Pilot deadline, Coach Jim Ball had not established his starting line-up, as the team was comprised mostly of singles players, and the two doubles teams were yet to be found.

Other returning lettermen included Steve Rans, senior; Steve Smith, junior; Warren Rice, junior; and Richard Rodriguez, junior.

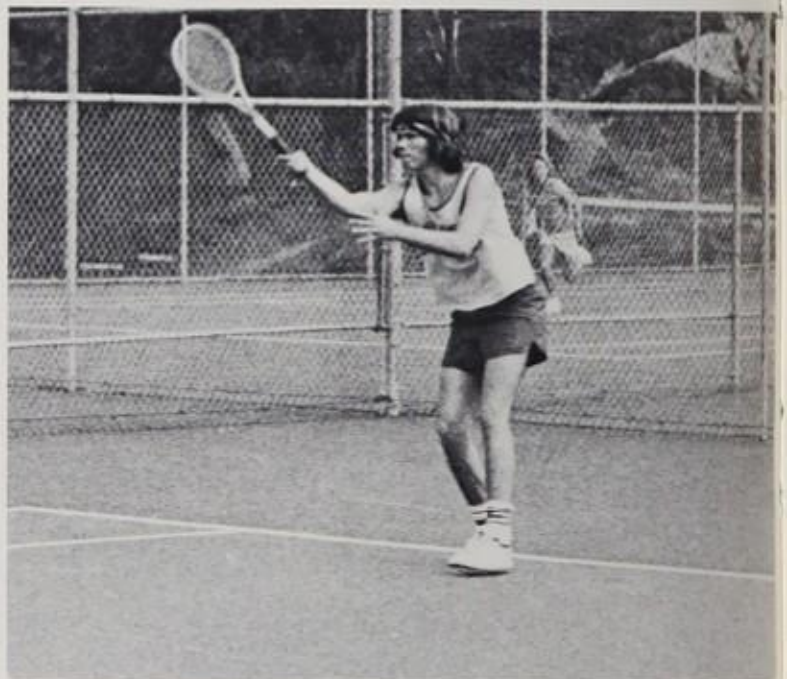

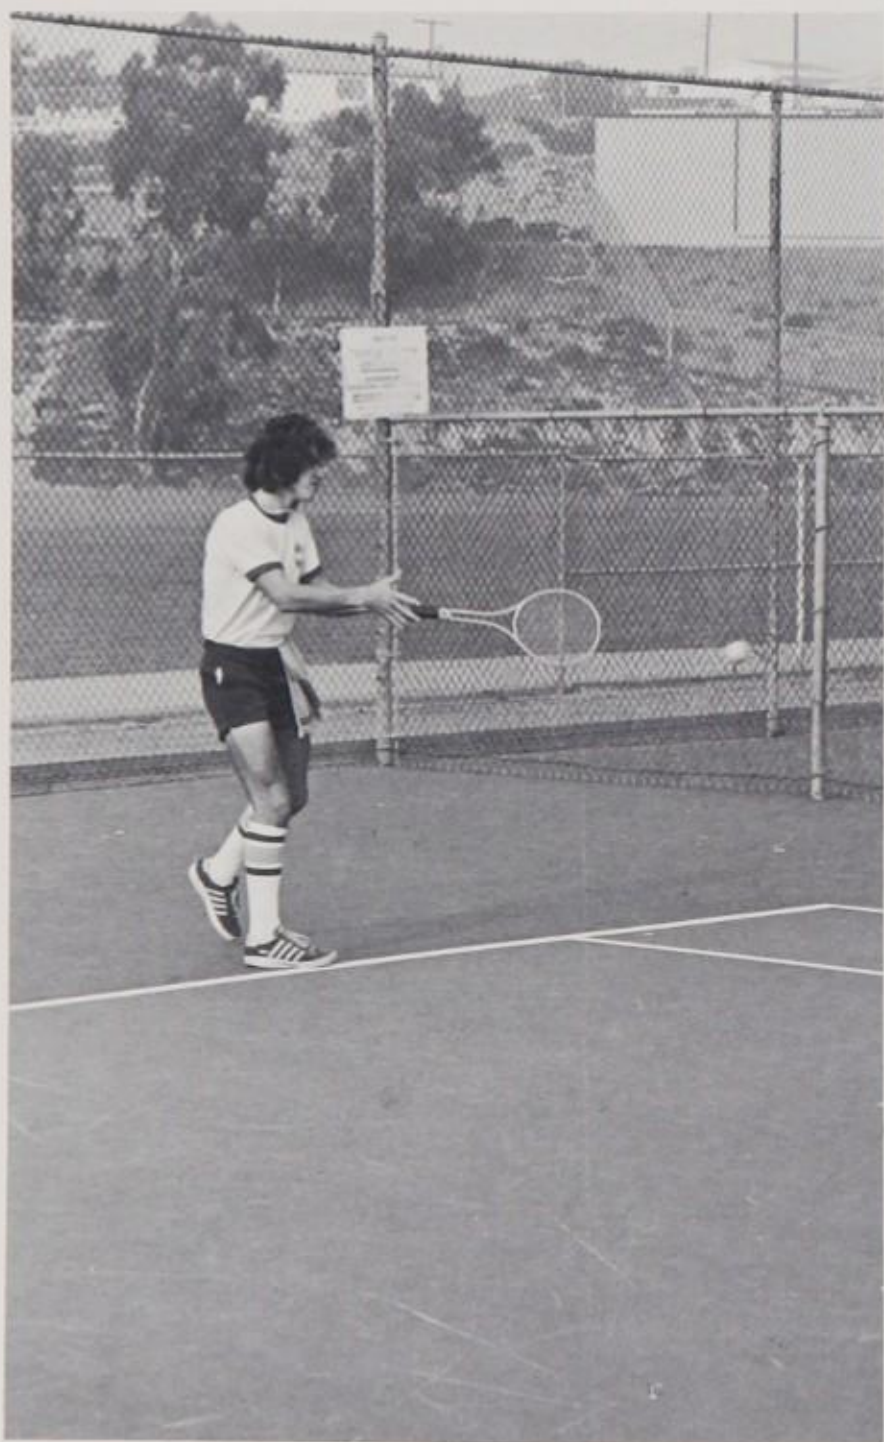

These players were joined by Rick Leonard, senior; and Taylor Freeman, junior, who both competed on the JV level last year, as well as two new players to the team, Roger De George and Arthur McFarland, both juniors.

1. Ray Phelps approaches a put-away volley.
2. Rick Leonard stretches for a down-the-line return.
3. Roger DeGeorge reaches high for the ace.
4. Steve Smith prepares for a slice forehand.
5. Steve Rans concentrates deeply on his forehand.
6. Mike McKinney attempts to pass down the alley.
7. Steve Rans and Tom Tomsic are ready to return the overhead.
8. FRONT ROW, L-R: Richard Rodriguez, Roger De George, Rick Leonard, Ray Phelps, BACK ROW: Arthur McFarland, Steve Rans, Carlos Daniels, Steve Smith, Coach Jim Ball.

Weber Prepares JV's for Future Wins

For the first time as a tennis coach, Jim Ball took on an assistant to coach the JV team and give the players individual instruction that was often not possible with only one coach.

This person was John "Chip" Weber, who graduated from Redondo in 1973, and was a 3-year varsity tennis player.

The 1977 JV singles line-up consisted of Loch Dreizler, senior; Richard Rodriguez, junior; Richard Scharf, sophomore; Steve Bright, freshman and Mark Handley, sophomore.

The starting doubles teams were Mike McKinney, senior and Mike Evanston, junior; Steve Curwick and John Elder, junior.

Swimmers Show Power:

Mike Inscore takes time

Competing in a tough and powerful Ocean League this year the Sea Hawk swimmers moved into a 3A rating.

Under the coaching of Mark Rubke, soph-frosh swimmers David Peyton and Mike Inscore led the team to many fine victories. Both boys excelled in the same events, 200 individual medley and the 100 breaststroke.

Up at the varsity level, strong league finalists were Bill Harkins in the freestyle sprints; Jim Healy middle distance free, both boys are at their last year as Hawk swimmers. Greg Pfiffer in the 100 back and 200 individual medley; Dan Jordan taking butterfly, Paul Tuttle, senior, 200 IM and 100 fly.

Freshman David Peyton pushes on in the butterfly.

Kickers Strive for Successful Season

Led by high scoring Antonio Franco, and halfback Mike Clarke, the varsity kickers proved to have an encouraging season.

Excelling in defense were seniors Jerry Thermos and Ed Dickson, and junior Mark Taupier. Ian McCaskill and Joe Stott also did a fine job bringing the ball up the field.

Defending the goal and doing an outstanding job was three year player Andre Schweitzer. Many players from the junior varsity moved to varsity to contribute during the season.

Coaching the team this year was Michael Gray.

Mark Taupier, Ed Dickson, and Ian McCaskill work together.

Junior Varsity soccer added something extra this year, with two new coaches, John Montoya and Jack Clarke. Coming on campus just to aid in soccer, both coaches have had six years experience in with AYSO (American Youth Soccer Association). They also contributed their experiences by giving advice and helping out the varsity.

The team was led by high scorers Dennis Gomez, Steve Gale, Jeff Haptonstal and CoCo Hernandez. Also doing an excellent job was goalie Mike Sullivan.

Swimmers Set Season's Goal:

Setting goals and getting top results had the Girls' Swim Team finishing high in the Ocean League this year.

Coached by Pam Cakebread, RUHS graduate, varsity swimmer had a fine year taking them all the way through league to CIF.

A winning CIF relay combined of Kiff Kimber, fly; Maggie VanOppen, back; Elaine Busby, breast and Linda Kinnon free, showed excellent performance this season.

Moving up to varsity level this year were juniors, Gail Brown, freestyle; Sheena Kinnon, Fly; Brigida Momand, breast.

Other fine contributors on the team are Nanci Oshrin fly; Kathy Peyton, back; Mary Godges and Maureen Dolan, freestyle.

On the Soph-Frosh level, Cindy Cleveland also a RUHS graduate, will return to coach and instruct the new swimmers on the team.

Doing the backstroke, Brigida Momand, Linda Kinnon and Gail Brown see it's to close for comfort.

Strong finishes by Kathy Peyton and Mary Godges give their team-mates fast starts.

"Memories," the theme for this year's water ballet show, had the synchronized swim team working hard for perfection.

Under the direction of Lynda Seppanen, the show was held on January 21 and 22. It consisted of 14 routines, including two trio, two duets and a comedy.

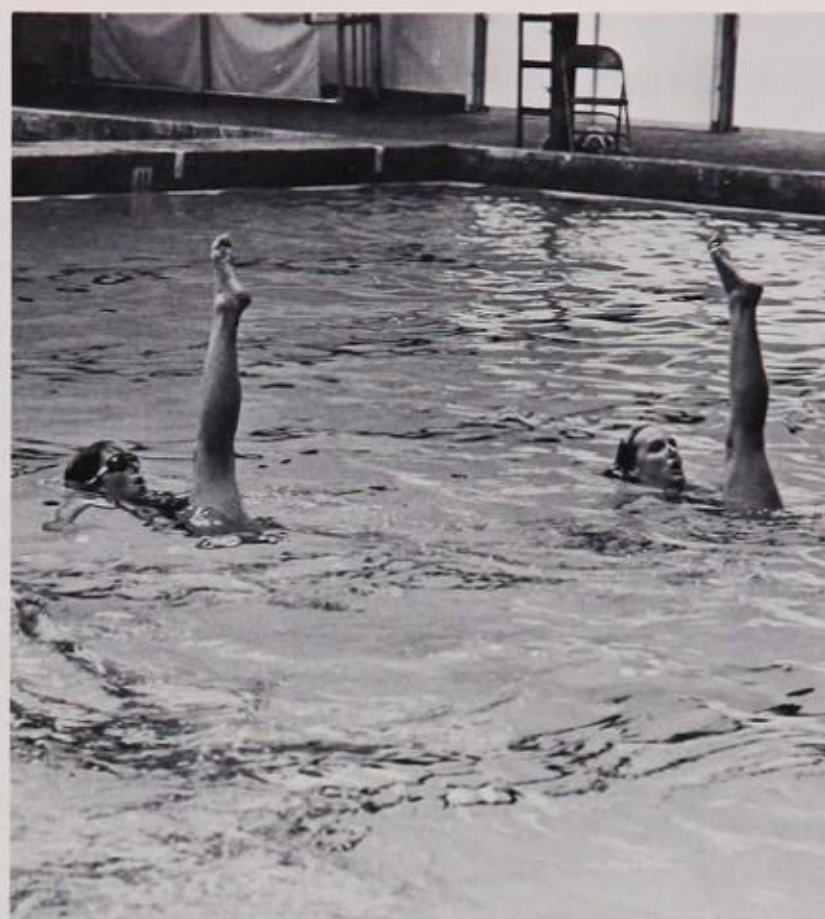

From sculling to catalinas nothing was forgotten. For all who belonged, are now left with times of Memories....

Combining Emotions With Movements

As each school year has a character of its own, so does each year of Modern Dance.

Using a combination of emotions and movements, each class obtains its own specialities.

Here dance students are given the freedom to express themselves on their own creative levels and are able to develop their own unique body movements as the year progresses.

Dancers Show Agility

The Modern dance objective is to experience personal growth through movement exploration and to open the door to the world of dance.

Dance Production includes students who have been in dance for three years.

Students study a variety of styles: modern, ballet, jazz, and ethnic.

They occasionally bring in guest dance teachers as well as sponsor Dance/LA. They feel it helps them to experience a variety of styles as well as understand movement vocabulary.

Dance production is produced with guidance from sponsor Toni Marich. She feels this class does not train one to become a professional (that must be done privately) it just opens the door.

"Mousetrap" Sets Audience on Edge of Chair

Agatha Christie's Famous mystery, "The Mouse-Trap", captivated a larger-than-usual crowd on Nov. 18 and 19. The play deals with the various reactions of the residents in a English guest cottage who are all under suspicion of murder.

"The play stays up with the book and in some places passes it up," says Scot Schrader, who played Giles Ralston. He also added, "We think that this play has interested more people than the others that have been put on. Many more people like a play with a climax or an exiting finish."

Stage Crew. It's more than just opening and closing the curtains at all of the plays and assemblies. It builds sets, back drops and accessories. They provide the atmosphere for all school, parks and recreation and district shows by organizing the set lights and recording sounds. The class meets sixth period under the supervision of James Harlow, resident stage manager. Many of the productions were hard, but the enjoyment felt at the climax of each play season was exhilarating.

Semper Comites Continues Service to School

1. Member Cheryl Osborne rinses off a car at the annual Semper Comites car wash.
2. After many years of cupcake sales, Leigh Mulhearn, sponsor, cracks at the sight of one more.

Semper Comites, the junior-senior girls service club, started off the year by putting on the Red and White dance. Homecoming, the first dance of the year, was a huge success.

Throughout the year, they held money raisers such as a car wash, a turkey raffle and their ever-popular cupcake sales. In December, the club sponsored three needy families and supplied them with toys and food for Christmas.

Graduating seniors are Joy Patten, Joyce Scheumaker, Stacy Caldwell, Kathy Peyton, Cheryl Osborne, Debbie Sato, Leslie Stroud, Valesta Muzik and Cathy Osello.

Key Club Opens New Doors . . .

Joe Raemer, President, leads a meeting at a take-over Kiwanis Club luncheon at The Plush Horse.

Key Club, the boys' Service Organization, conducted many activities involving both the community and the school.

Throughout the year, they sponsored dances and started a monthly newsletter that neighboring schools receive. Also, they became acquainted with the Kiwanis Club that sponsors them by attending their luncheons every Tuesday and helping them with various projects.

Traditionally, Key Club officers are voted in when the new Student Council is elected. Elections were held in December resulting in Joe Raemer replacing Warren Rice as president.

Etcetera Takes on New Smell

Etcetera, the school magazine, which came out twice this year took on a new smell for the first issue, the cover which looked like a pizza, also smelled like one. Stories ranged from the best place to buy pizza to how freshmen look to different people.

The second issue featured different types of stories and was edited by David Boyd.

Top Writers Receive Plaudits

Quill and Scroll, the honorary society for outstanding high school journalists chose 18 members for this year. Members are selected by teachers, on their work in student publications and their high scholastic achievement. Being purely honorary only few meetings were held. Members receive subscription of the Quill and Scroll magazine and a pin.

The main project of the year for the Pen Pointers was the literary magazine, "The Opus" which received a first place rating.

Students Honored for Language

Sponsored by Albert Wilson, Spanish National Honor Society gained new members at the semester. To qualify for the club you must have an A average in your Spanish class.

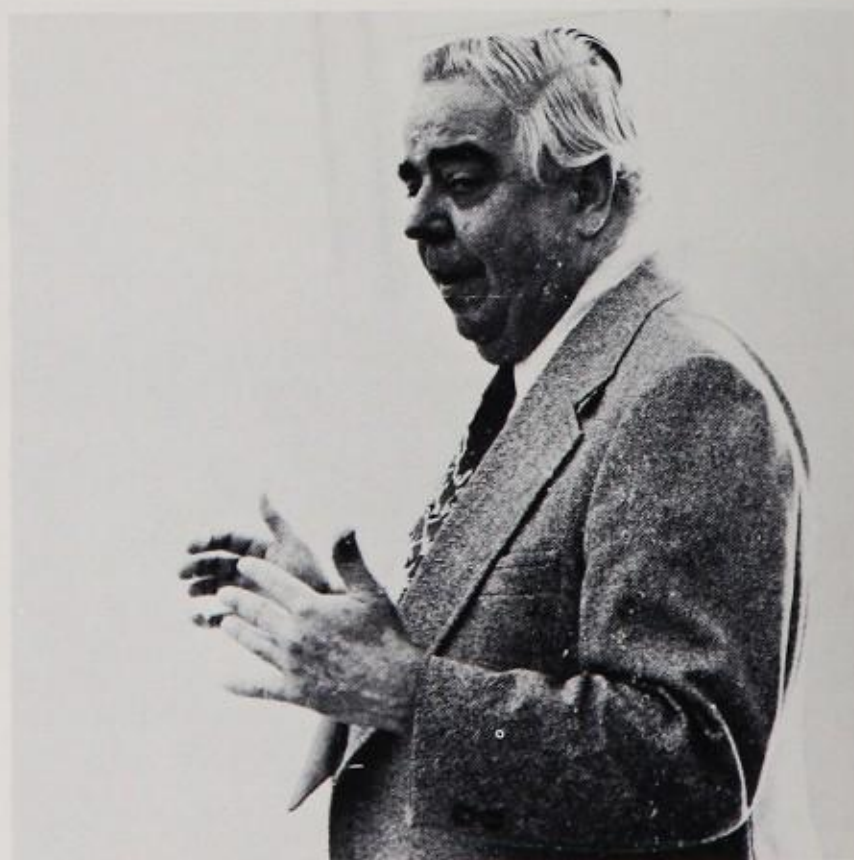

One of the activities for this year was the traditional trip to Olvera Street. Due to lack of interest, though, it was cancelled.

Officers for this year's Cervantes Club were Mike Bishop, president; Greg Pfeifer, vice-president and Debbie Dalton, secretary.

Golf Club got into the swing of things this year by increasing its membership and becoming more active. An interclub tournament was held every Thursday at Los Verdes Country Club to determine ranking in the club for competition.

Contests were held in March and April against neighboring schools such as Aviation, Mira Costa and South. The price for the games were $1.50 for nine holes and Tee off usually at 3:15 pm.

"We would like to see more members in the club," stated Dave Leach, sponsor. "We want to build a love for it in these people so later in life they will continue playing the game," he said.

Also, graduating members were working for a golf scholarship that was offered this year to Park College in Kansas City. This team plays in the NCAA Golf Championships every year.

Cognotai Serves Community and School

Cognotai, a service club for freshmen and sophomore girls, had a very successful year. Under the leadership of Barbara Hall, president, the club kept busy by having numerous sucker sells, a pickle and brownie sell and put on the annual Christmas Dance.

For the first semester, their sponsor was Johann Christensen who, at second semester left the club and Redondo to move to Rome. Noel Hudson soon took her place and now is the new sponsor.

The club met every Thursday morning, bright and early at 7:30. Qualifications included, a screen interview with the sponsors and the officers, good grades and a willpower to help.

Cognotai concluded the year with a service project for the community.

Wheel Club, headed by Jeff Mitchell and sponsored by Michael Gray, has done various activities to fulfill the year. Along with putting on the Valentine's Dance and the "One Quarter to go" dance, Wheel Club has been very successful in raising money on a bottle drive.

Being a underclassman organization, Qualifications for the club requires you be a freshman or sophomore, have good grades, and be willing to work. Both boys or girls are welcome.

Clubs Promote Special Interests

French National Honor Society, a lifetime honor society for French students, was sponsored this year by Katherine Pinaquy.

The club's initiation includes such thrills as eating snails and questioning those to be future members, in French.

"All members must carry a B average in French and have taken the course for three years," stated Tina Hoellering, club member.

Parents of students in athletics and other support groups formed the Booster Club to aid and promote all areas of student interests on campus.

The club's biggest accomplishment was the Celebrity Basketball game on March 4, which raised $1,500. Much of the money went to the new track, and more went to equipment for the weight room. A newsletter, bright red jackets, and energetic support at athletic events added to the members' motivation.

Hoping for strikes and spares but never a gutter ball is the Bowling Club which meets every Monday afternoon at the South Bay Bowling Alley. The club is divided into about ten competing teams with three people on each. The teams are scored using their handicap and the book average.

The first place team, highest game and highest series receive awards every season (each semester). Other awards are also given at the end of the year banquet.

Under the leadership of John Porter, sponsor, and Larry Keller, president, the club had a very "striking" year.

World Friendship Aids Foreign Exchange Students

Hola. Buon Giorno. Allo. Guten Tag. Hello. In any language the purpose of World Friendship Club is the same, to welcome and aid Redondo's foreign exchange students.

The club does this by finding homes for them to stay during their visit, throw welcome and farewell parties in their favor, buy them a yearbook and show them the sights of Southern California.

Throughout the year the club had many fundraisers to promote the exchange student program.

With president Barbara Luna and sponsors Jack McClain, Mario Ortiz, Socorro Tarazon and Florence Powers, Los Amigos, a new friendship club, was started this year.

Throughout the year they held car washes and food sales to reach their goal of having enough money to put on a dance. "The main idea of this club is to extend a feeling of friendship," stated Jack McClain, sponsor. "They would like to break down the barriers at Redondo and enlarge the club," he said. "Everyone is welcome."

Nurses Aide Brings Relief to Patients

2. Mida Martinez helps out at the hospital.

"Nurses Aide is just what it is called. They help the nurses with the patients and such," said Florence Powers, sponsor. "The difference between Nurses Aide and Candy Strippers is the aides get to help make the beds and work with the patients. Candy Strippers do not—although both are necessary."

Although Nurses Aide is a class, they only spend two days of the week at Redondo. The other three are spent at the hospital. "Right now the class is small, but I hope more kids will take it next year. Boys, especially, because the hospitals are always in need for Orderlies,"

Specialized Clubs Promote Various Interests

French Club was one of the most active clubs on campus this year thanks to a concerned sponsor and active members. Some of the highlights of the year were the French banquet held in the cafeteria which was crowded and well received, a snow trip with French National Honor Society in February, a trip to the J. Paul Getty museum in May, and the audition for the Gong Show in March. Singing a funny French song, the club members were in hopes of winning the losers fee!

Homemaking Club was larger this year than in the past enabling them to have larger scale activities. At Christmas time, the club got names of residents of a local convalescent home and made each of them gifts. Homemaking Club tries to improve personal and community living and is also for girls interested in creative activities such as cooking and sewing. Hoping to make money on the peanut butter cup sale, the club will now be able to continue strong next year because they did.

Candy Stripers as a club weren't active, but as an individual accomplishment, were very strong. Candystripers are girls who do volunteer work at local hospitals such as reading and talking to patients, running errands for the nurses, and assisting the patients in various ways. Besides providing hospitals with much needed help, the program is designed to enrich ones self.

Candy Stripers, are: Brenda Osborne, Erin Moran, Darlene Gomez, Barbara Dusing, Diane Johnson, and Heidi Aichinger.

Tuesday Travelers Luncheon Club talking about trips for the future.

Travelers Enjoy Trips in Area

"The club was formed to learn more about other languages; a few phrases to communicate when you're traveling," said Tom Wilson, sponsor. "But they wanted to go on trips, so we do."

The Tuesday Travelers Luncheon Club has been involved in many trips. The first trip was to the County Fair at Valencia in October. An unusual event happened the week after they toured the Los Angeles Harbor. The Sansinea tanker blew up.

Knotts' Berry Farm, Disneyland, and Magic Mountain were the club's other activities. "We average about three or four trips a year," adds Mr. Wilson.

They meet about once a month and there are no dues. Everybody pays for his own way on the trips.

The masked robber in Reonion and his accompis.

Television Arts, a new club composed of MGM students and sponsored by Jack McClain.

These eccentric hams do skits—mainly adlibbed, on any idea or subject they can think of.

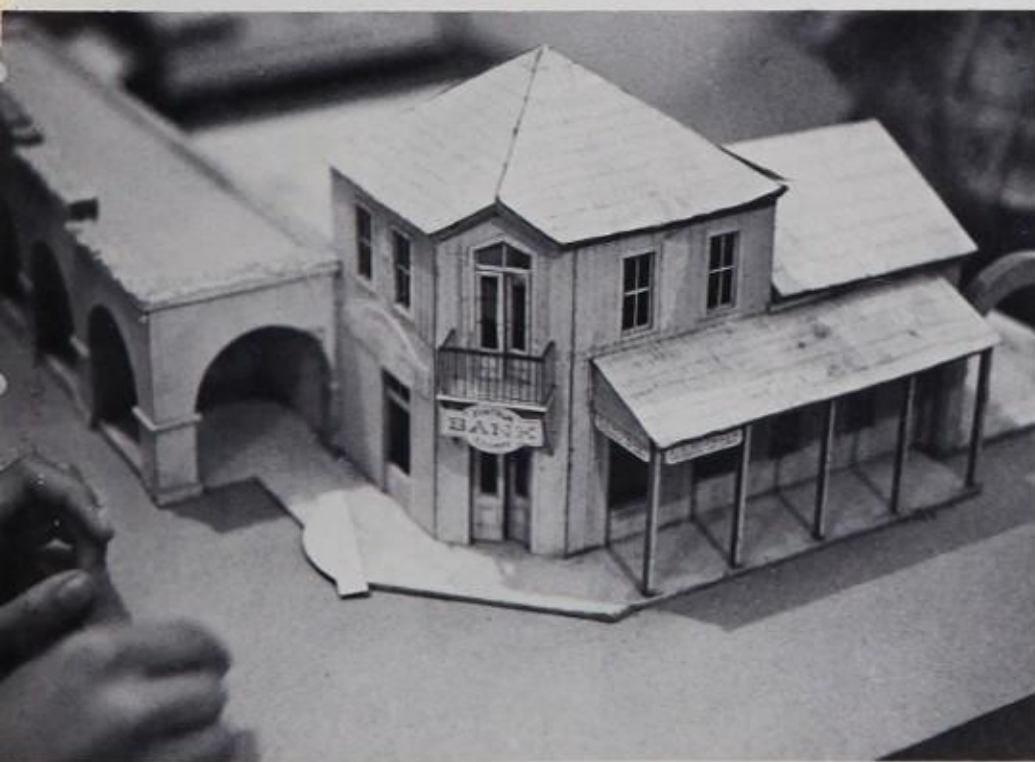

Their skits are filmed and taped, the film is then able to be played back on a television set.

Special effects, though limited, is often used by the cameraman. He uses models for shots of outsides of buildings.

One of their plays they have done is Gone With The Whiz, which is about a rich old man dying and all his relatives want is his money. He gives it all to charity except $3 for this wino brother.

Others that they have done are: Reonion, a bank robbery in Mexico; and Scrooge.

Enthusiasm Shows for Girls' League

Girls' League may be fewer in number, but its strength and enthusiasm is all over the campus.

Headed by Susan Frommer, president, the League held its annual Book Fair. Instead of having it on campus they took it over to Del Amo Shopping Center. Heart-O-Grams for your secret Valentine were sold by the girls in February.

From Cowgirls to We Have

Many goals have never been realized, but still it's fun to look back on childhood dreams. Miss Brandenburg loved horses so naturally she wanted to be a cowgirl complete with spurs; Mr. Brashear had hopes of being a test pilot or an architect; Mr. Carter just wanted to be a man; Mrs. Christensen-Horne says she did not want to be a teacher, but she wanted to be a microbiologist; Mrs. Combs was a true journalist at heart and always knew she was meant to be in that field in some way; Mr. Congelliore wanted to be a BIG pro football player; Mr. Dadian wanted to be involved with school in some way or to be in sports; Mr. Eakins hoped to be a Naval pilot; Mr. Ferrell knew he wanted to be in a print shop or else a fireman; and Mrs. Flahive wanted to be a teacher.

Many opportunities are provided for students to explore different areas of interest such as Nursery School aides, Candystripers, and the many courses offered at SCROC. We have classes where we build airplanes, learn about investing money, learn how to be an insurance salesman, or we can learn the Hustle in a P.E. class. We can learn to be journalists, we can learn the many aspects of a print shop, we can learn architectural skills in mechanical drawing, or almost anything else where there is an interest.

to Be a Teacher ”

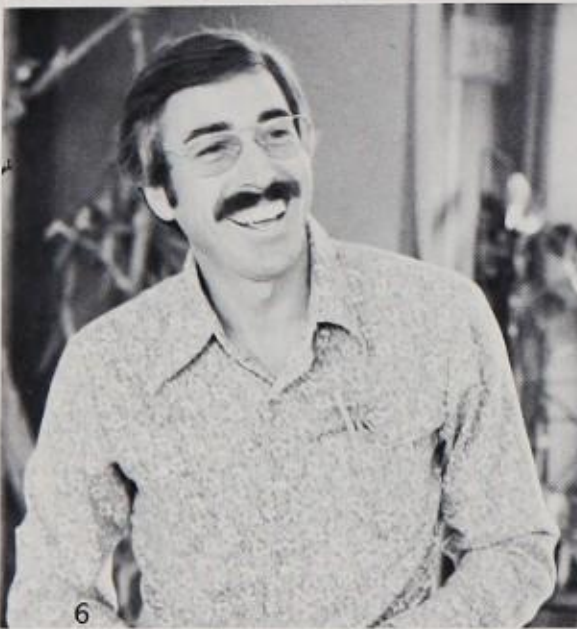

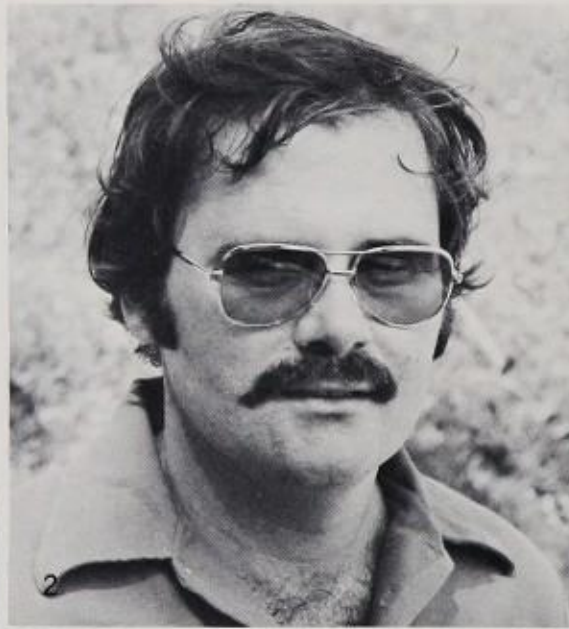

When asked what they wanted to be when they grew up, most teachers were amused to look back at themselves when they were our age or smaller. Perhaps that's how we'll look back on our pasts: with amusement and happy memories.

Mrs. Fortney says she never wanted to be a teacher until she was in junior college; Mr. Friebe had dreams of becoming a professional baseball player; Mr. Galanes wasn't sure what he wanted to be until he got to college, then he decided to teach science;

Mrs. Gayle wanted to be a nurse; and Ms. Gelon didn't have any goal but her students seem to think she wanted to have FUN. Mr. Glushenko was confused since everyone was getting drafted, so he just wanted to be a bum; Mr. Goddard wanted to be a police officer; Mr. Gray wanted to teach and to coach football; Dr. Hoyme was a train nut, so he wanted to be a railroad engineer; and Ms. Hudson wanted to be involved with art in some way.

Teachers' Idols: F.D. Roosevelt,

1. Judi James, teaches science and P.E., and her favorite sports are tennis and snow skiing.
2. Harry Jenkins, who's idol as a child was John F. Kennedy, teaches P.E.
3. Jane Kawakami thinks freshmen are the worst; she teaches business education.
4. Student activities director, James Keema, likes to work with student leaders and eat at the same time.
5. Inez Kensit, creative cooking.

6. Superman, the Green Hornet, and F. Roosevelt were Ron Kooper's idols as a child. He teaches freehand and beginning art.
7. Science teacher, David Leach, enjoys water skiing and golf.
8. Vivian Macedo, who had a childhood idol, Clark Gable, teaches business education.
9. Kathyryn Hepburn was an idol to Toni Marich, P.E. instructor, as a child.
10. "Our whole family is singers," said Jack McClain who teaches art and freehand. Mr. McClain enjoys Welsh singing and jazz.

Superman, Hemingway.

Some of McClain's idols as a child were Leonardo, Ernest Hemingway, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Sherlock Holmes, and Tarzan.

Popular Sports: Tennis, Water

1. He's smart, he's letting Mr. Kooper do the work.
2. "Sophomores, without a doubt," exclaimed Richard McIntosh, a U.S. history teacher. He's talking about which age kids are the most difficult.
3. Mike Mercadante teaches machine shop and enjoys coaching sports for young boys.

Snow Skiing, Skiing.

4. The teacher of aeroscience and photography, Ted Misenhimer, has an idol of Charles Lindbergh.
 5. Don Morrison, science teacher.
 6. Leigh Mulhearn teaches ecography and world history.
 7. One of the many teachers who likes water skiing is Christina Nielson, who teaches home economics.

8. Three idols of Maureen O'Connor, English teachers were Amelia Earhart, Margaret Boruke White, and Margaret Mead.
 9. Taking pleasure in working with wood, gold leaf, and marketry in his free time is Mario Ortiz, Spanish teacher.
 10. "I'm a snowski buff," stated Ron Page a special ed instructor and football coach. He also takes pleasure in boating and reading.

Don't True!

Have you ever imagined one of your teachers sitting in a classroom, similar to yours, and having dreams of be comming or doing something famous or exciting?

We have uncovered some secret ambitions, unknown to most students. Some examples following: Nelle Stannard always wanted to be a professional singer. "I guess I never made it!" she laughs. Bill Vaughn wanted more than anything else to become a pilot. Lynda Seppanen thought of becoming a 'Mommy' but had more serious thoughts of being a nurse or a teacher. Neal Snidow dreamed of becoming a scientist

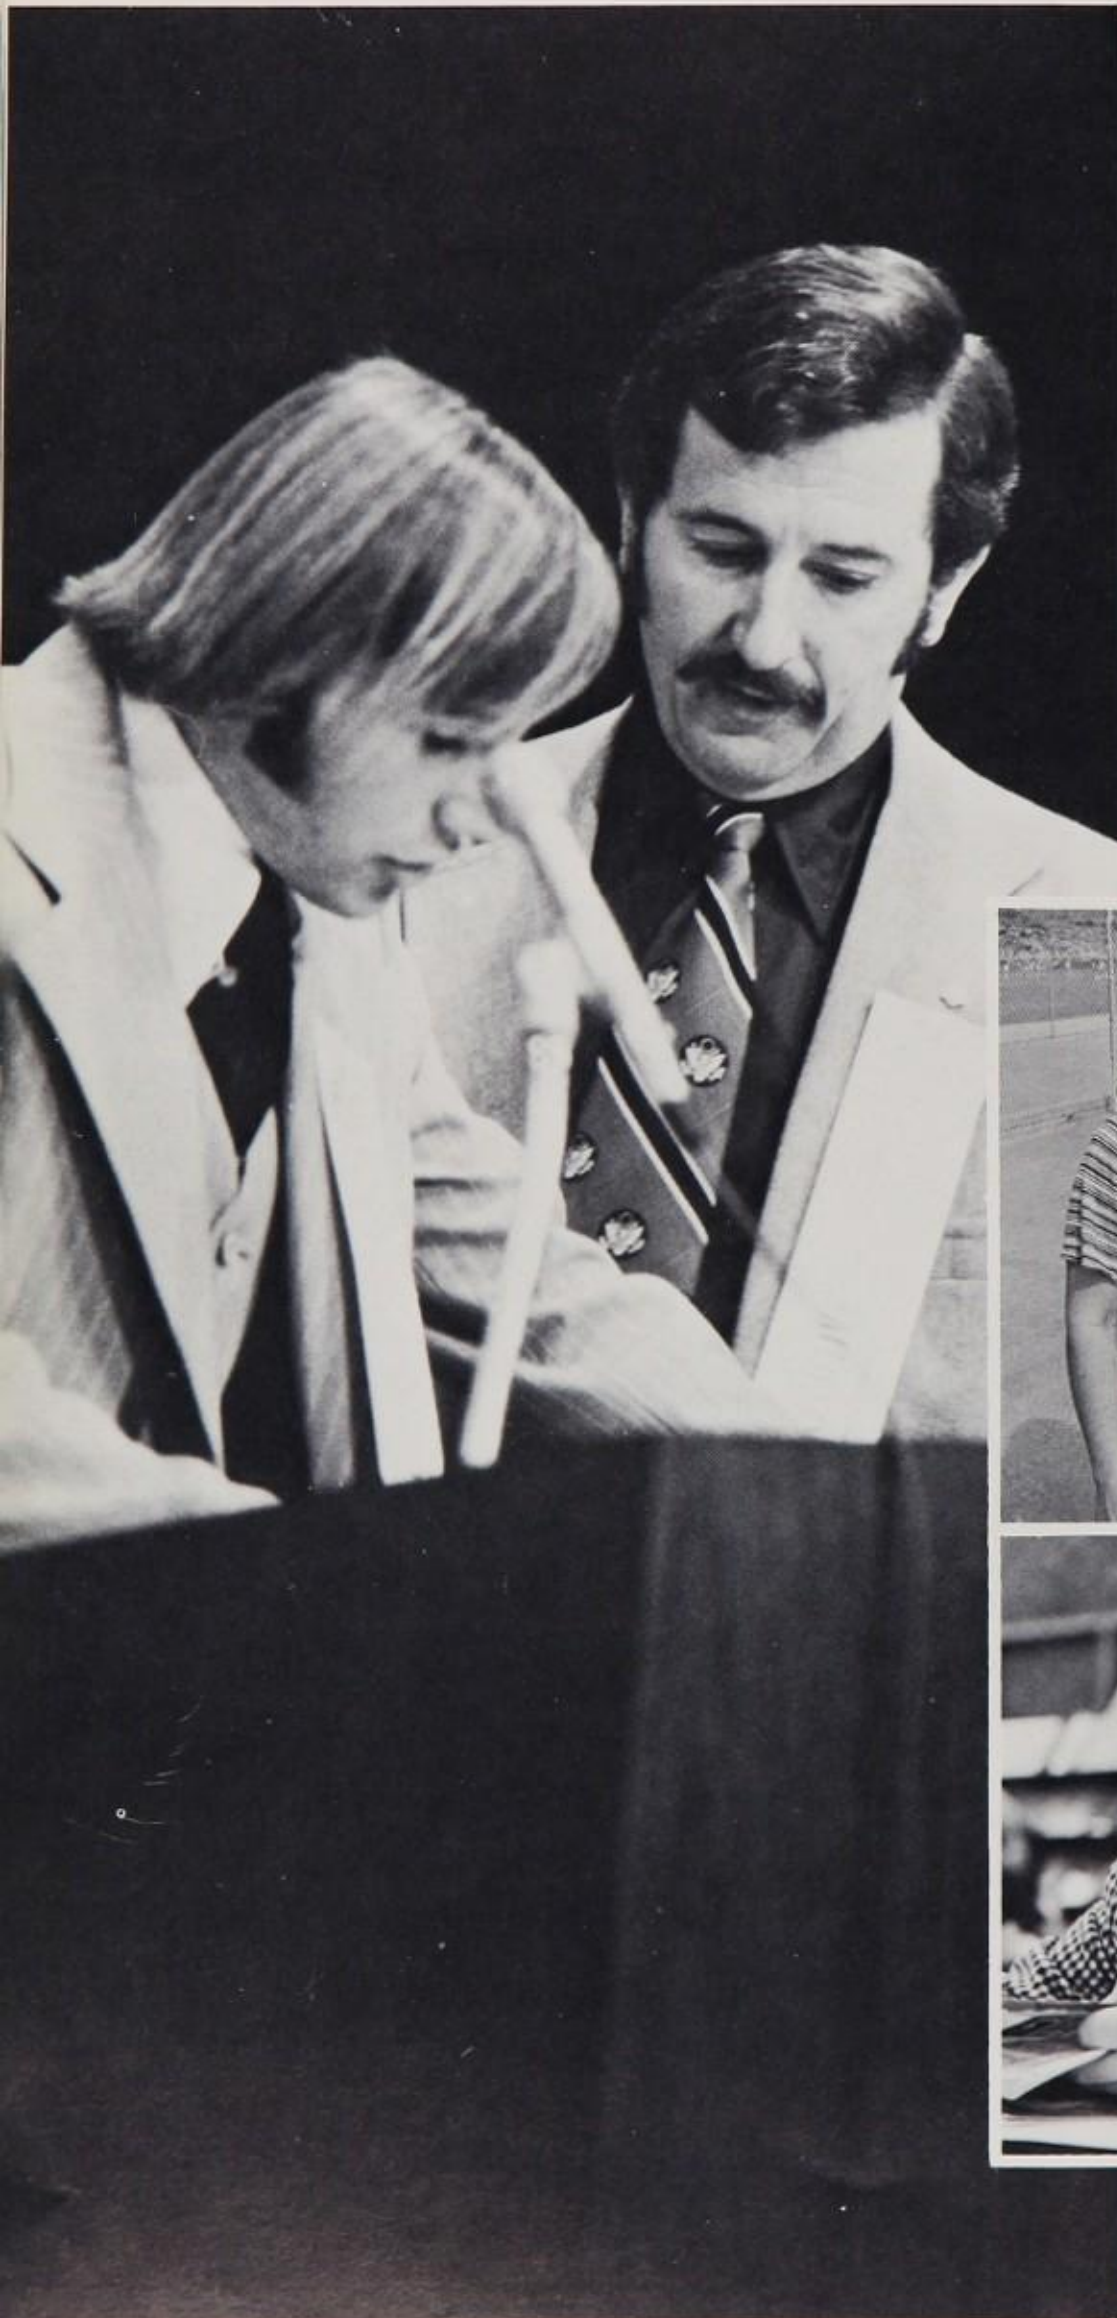

Although unlike anyone else's answers is Howard Smith who wanted to "be BIGGER!" Another interesting piece of information was revealed when the teachers were asked who their idol is. Wayne Roy came up with a simple answer, Ronald Reagan, while demonstrating his dream of "I always wanted to fly."

Calls-Oh How Teachers Listen!

For a change in pace from the school day ho hum, faculty members find ways to relax. Get ready now to "dig" this, shorthand teacher by day turns into a "pro-spiker" for enjoyment... But then deep down under the vast water regions of the world we can find our freshmen English instructor miggling with the fish...

Just to lose a few, bicycling along the bike path with KFAC for company, social studies teacher sets his destination for a cup of that aromatic 40¢ coffee!!

... For our Spanish instructor it takes more than a bike to reach others lands such as Europe, Mexico and South America ... A green thumb and nimble fingers takes our Algebra teacher into the world of gardening and flower arranging.

Gary Kingston goes up for a last second shot against his opponent.

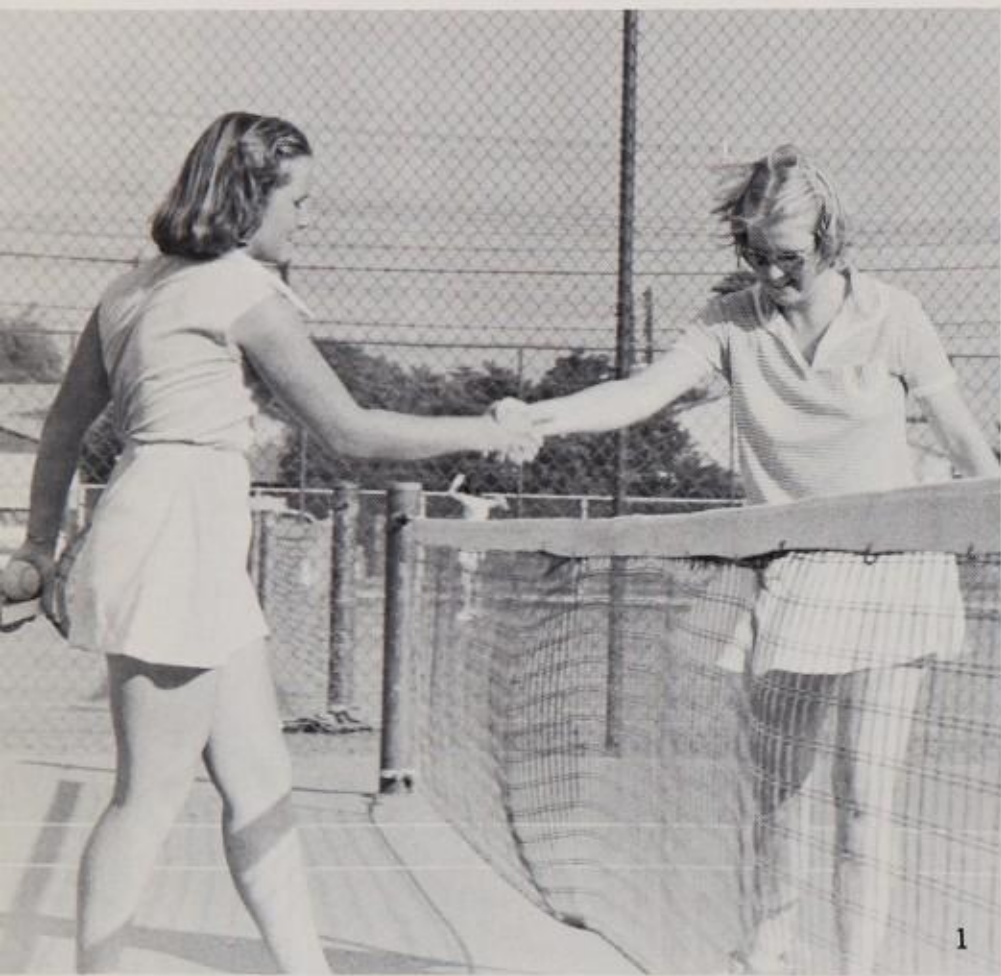

Ayyyyyyyyyyyye.

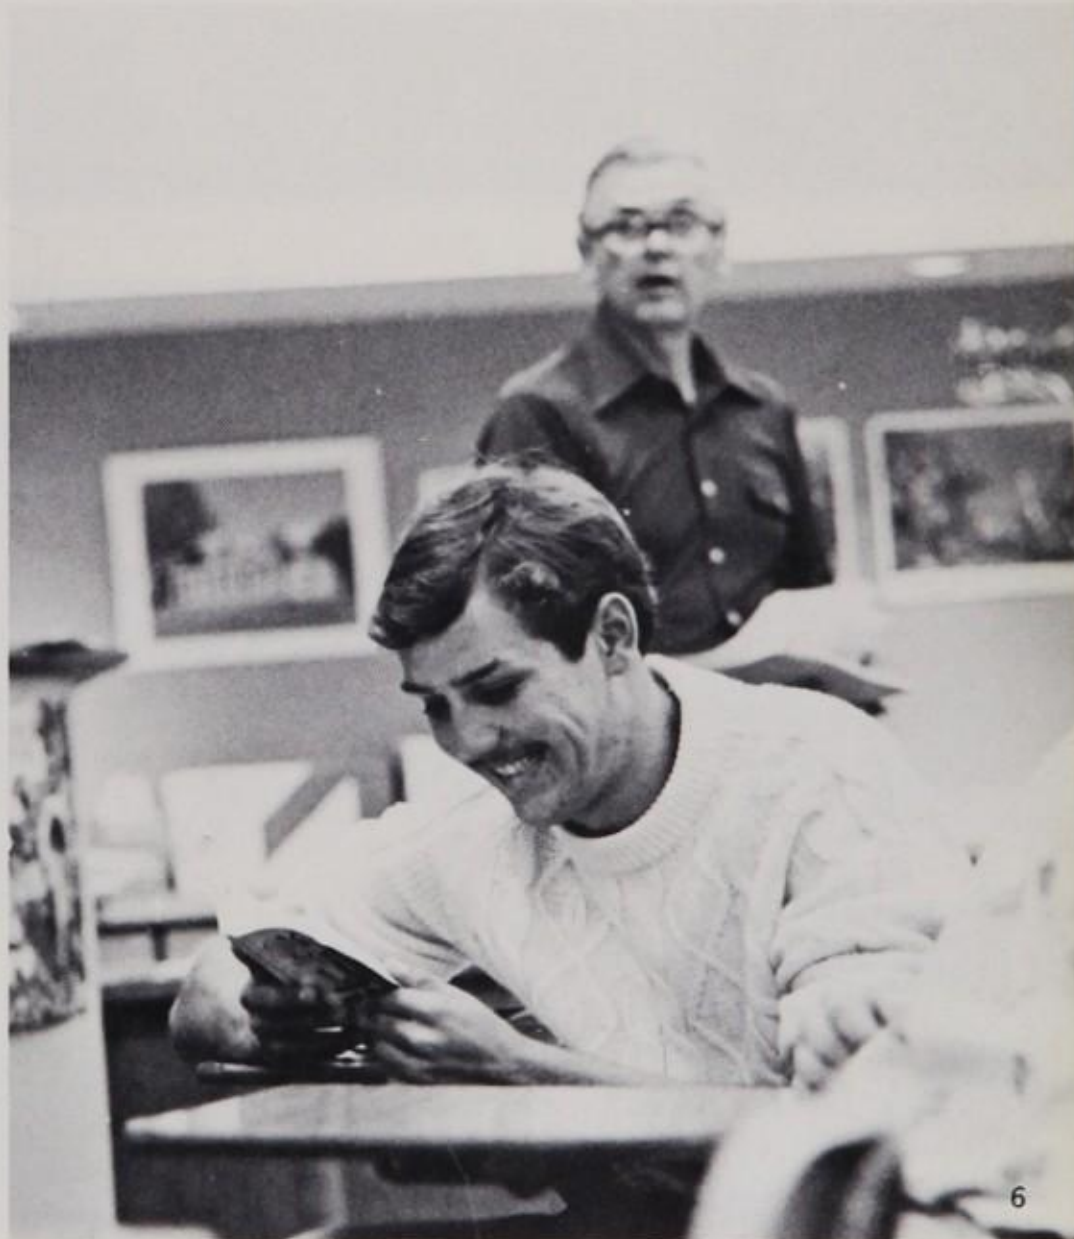

Who ever said that history is a time for learning?

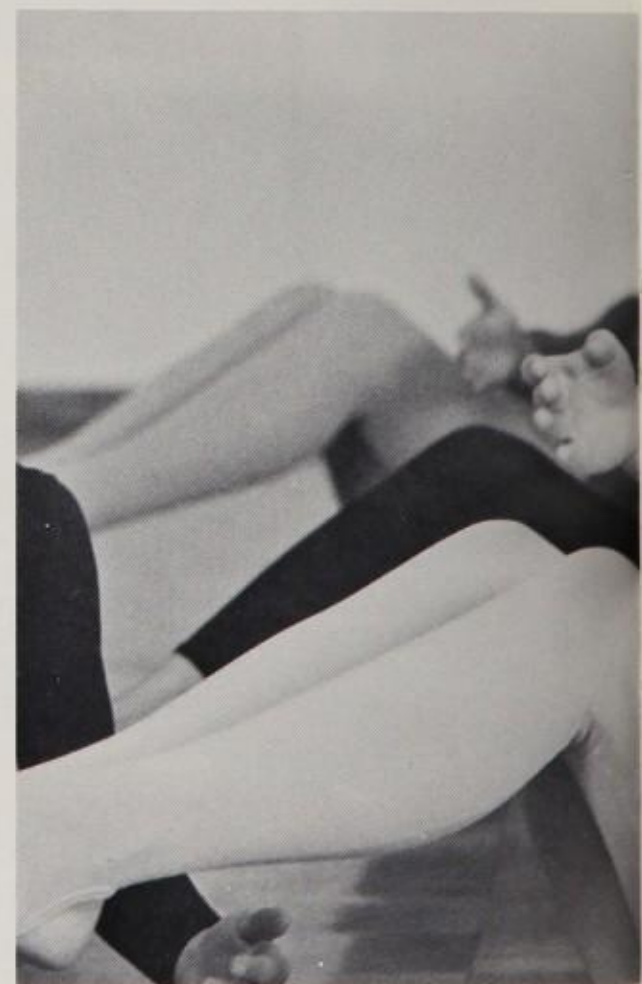

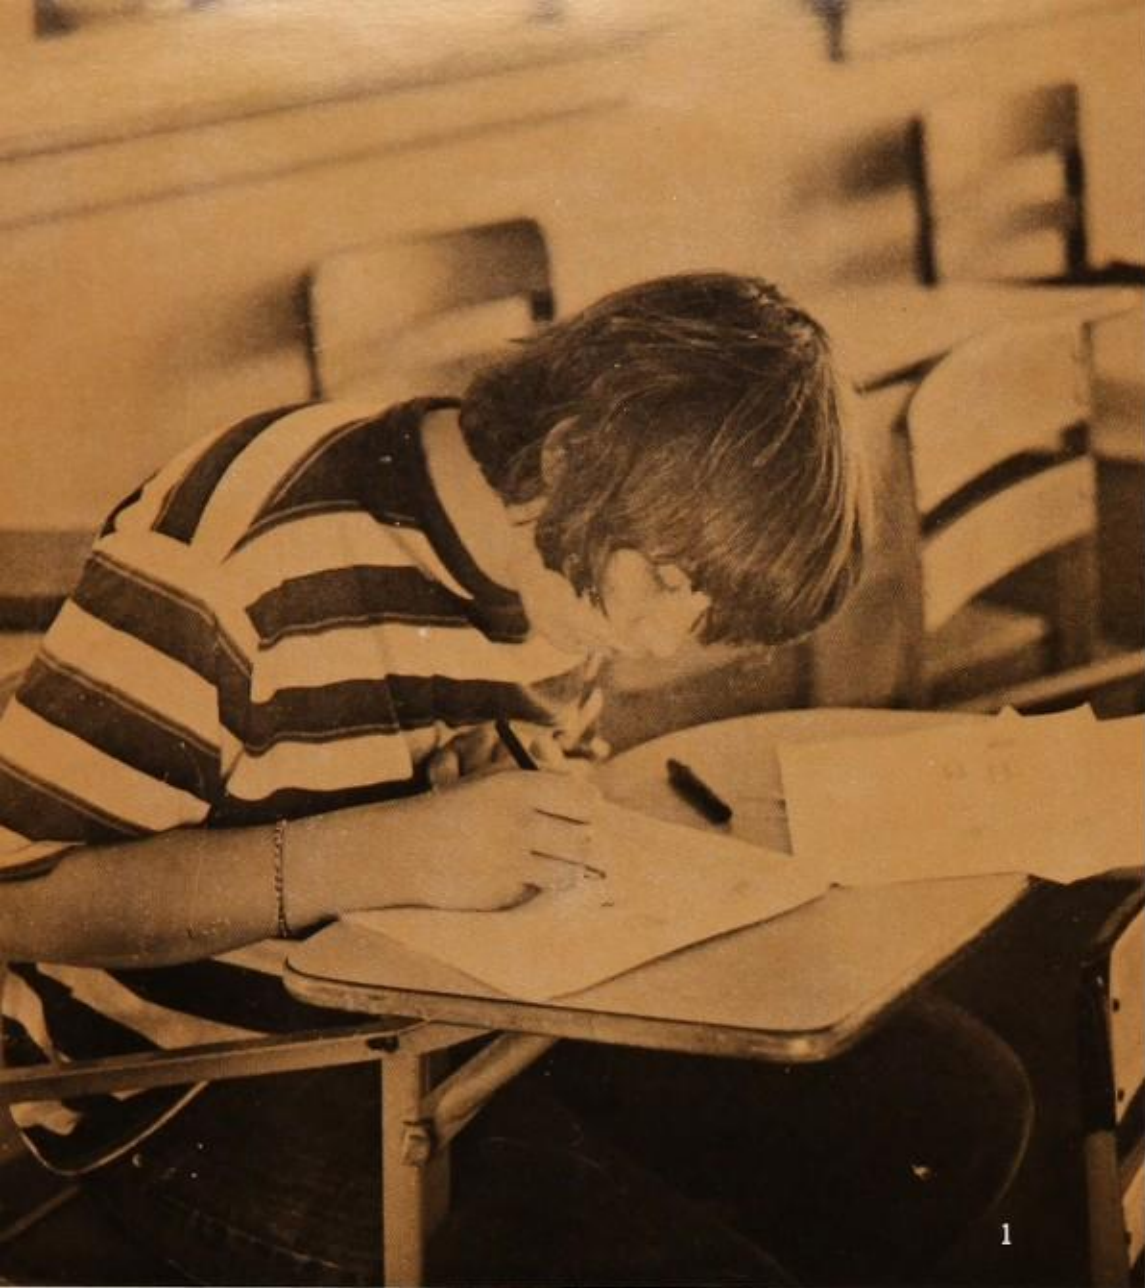

Juniors . . .

1. Shelley Martin is congratulated after yet, another victory.
2. Steve Curwick ferociously shows his anger and displeasure after being tossed into the pool.
3. Doug Wickham contemplates advice given to him by Mario Tremblay, senior, on whether or not to go for it.
4. Darla Erickson, "I wonder if that guy's staring at me?"
5. Proof to the fact that Rick Jarrett can actually use a pencil.
6. Gary Kingston heavily absorbs information from Cosmopolitan's latest love guide, as Mr. McIntosh looks on in amazement.

1. Jack Dickason, High Tide cartoonist.
2. Steve Curwick, live, at the Roxie, but nobody believed him.
3. Doug Wickham still ponders matter, while Art Villanueva kicks back.
4. Robin Griffin and Sophomore Cheryl Townsend, smiles at a friend while Toni Nix pulls her, drinking her milk through the ear trick.
5. Edy Abbey...everybody loves a photographer.

WEATHER REPORT FROM MARS

From minus 120° F at night to a cozy minus 22° F at midday ... those are typical readings from the miniature weather station we built for NASA's Viking Lander. Winds so far have been gentle and variable but at such low atmospheric pressures that the spit on a wet finger would evaporate in a flash. For the scientists on NASA's meteorology team, it has been almost like looking out the window at a thermometer and anemometer over two hundred million miles away.

atmosphere, it's an example of the well-known greenhouse effect run wild. Could industrial pollution create anything like the same effect here? Venus, the ultimate laboratory is ready; a new set of probing instruments soon will be.

Other NASA experiment packages, now under development or study at TRW, include systems to measure plasma waves and electric fields in interplanetary space, radiometers to measure the sun's total energy output with unprecedented

To research meteorologists, one of the most significant things about Mars is that wind storms develop with lightning speed. That tenuous atmosphere can produce winds of more than hurricane velocity in no time at all by Earth's standards. The energizer for these sudden and violent changes in Martian weather is, of course, the same as it is for Earth: solar radiation. But, with no oceans to act as stabilizing heat sinks, the energy is transferred from surface to atmosphere very rapidly indeed, by convection. Both storms and calms on Mars are planetary in scope. By using data from this enormous laboratory in their mathematical models, scientists may be able to gain new insights into the way Earth's more complicated weather systems work.

Some of the TRW people who helped build the Martian weather station are already at work on instruments designed to analyze the atmospheres of Venus, Jupiter, and Saturn. The Venusian atmosphere is particularly interesting because it provides a set of conditions about as different from those on Mars as possible. Many times as hot and dense as Earth's precision, and a laboratory for Space Shuttle in which experiments can be performed on fundamental atmospheric cloud processes without the disturbing influence of gravity. (Once again, man's understanding of a complicated process may be improved by removal of one of the complicating factors.)

Incidentally, the biology experiment we built for Viking is also working perfectly. Whether or not it will find signs of life in the soil samples it's been analyzing is still a question but it has already provided some unexpected data on Martian soil chemistry. This one cubic foot of instrumentation contains about forty thousand parts and does the work of three earthside rooms full of lab equipment. It's not surprising that Time magazine said "it must certainly rate as one of the age's technological masterpieces."

If you are interested in knowing more about the company behind these interesting technical developments, we'll be glad to send you an illustrated brochure on our overall capabilities.

Ted Misenhimer Pioneers Course; Now "Takes Off"

Ted Misenhimer, pioneer teacher in the field of aerospace, announced his retirement this spring.

Mr. Misenhimer served at Redondo for more than 15 years, and in addition to aerospace, taught photography and music. Highlight of a student's year in his classes was his chance to fly an airplane under the teachers guidance.

His aid to school publications via his photography students was done in his spare time and was often declared as "a lifesaver" by harrassed page editors.

How do you replace a man like Ted Misenhimer? Typically, he has prepared his successor well: he wrote the only textbook for the course!

Zelma Fortney Plans Future as "Happy Hooker"

"Happy Hooker!" How could this beloved teacher of Redondo freshman dare say she will enter retirement with plans like this?

Actually, Zelma Fortney explains that she plans to hook rugs in much of her spare time for the enjoyment of her children and grandchildren.

Her freshmen English classes have long enjoyed her special talent of reading aloud, so she also plans to record books for the blind during her carefree years ahead.

Mrs. Fortney is one of those teachers who went back to teaching after her children were grown: may her new career as a "hooker" be fun and rewarding!

Tradition Falls to Modern Book

Robin Dreizler shows his hustling form.

Eighteen confused but dedicated students met last spring to come up with a concept for Pilot '77.

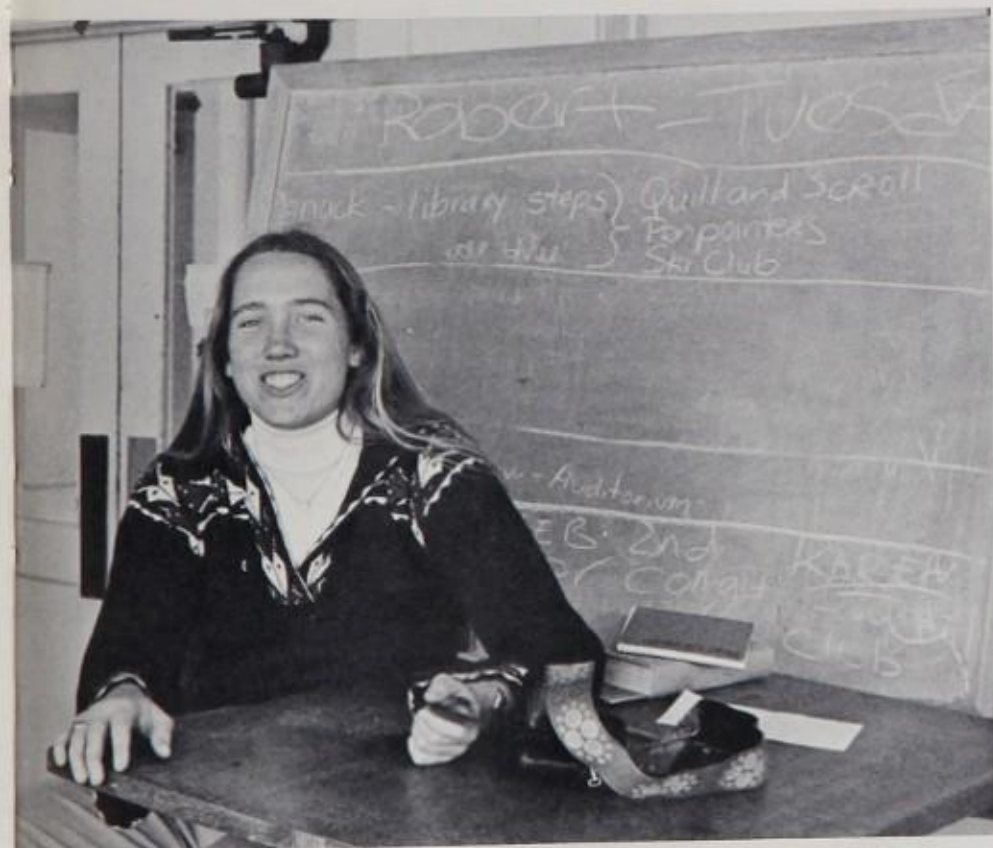

Under the direction of Jolene Combs, and Paul Tuttle, editor, the newly organized staff made its first steps toward building the yearbook.

Despite many confusing and almost missed deadlines, the staff finally completed a yearbook that they felt was complete and very well done.

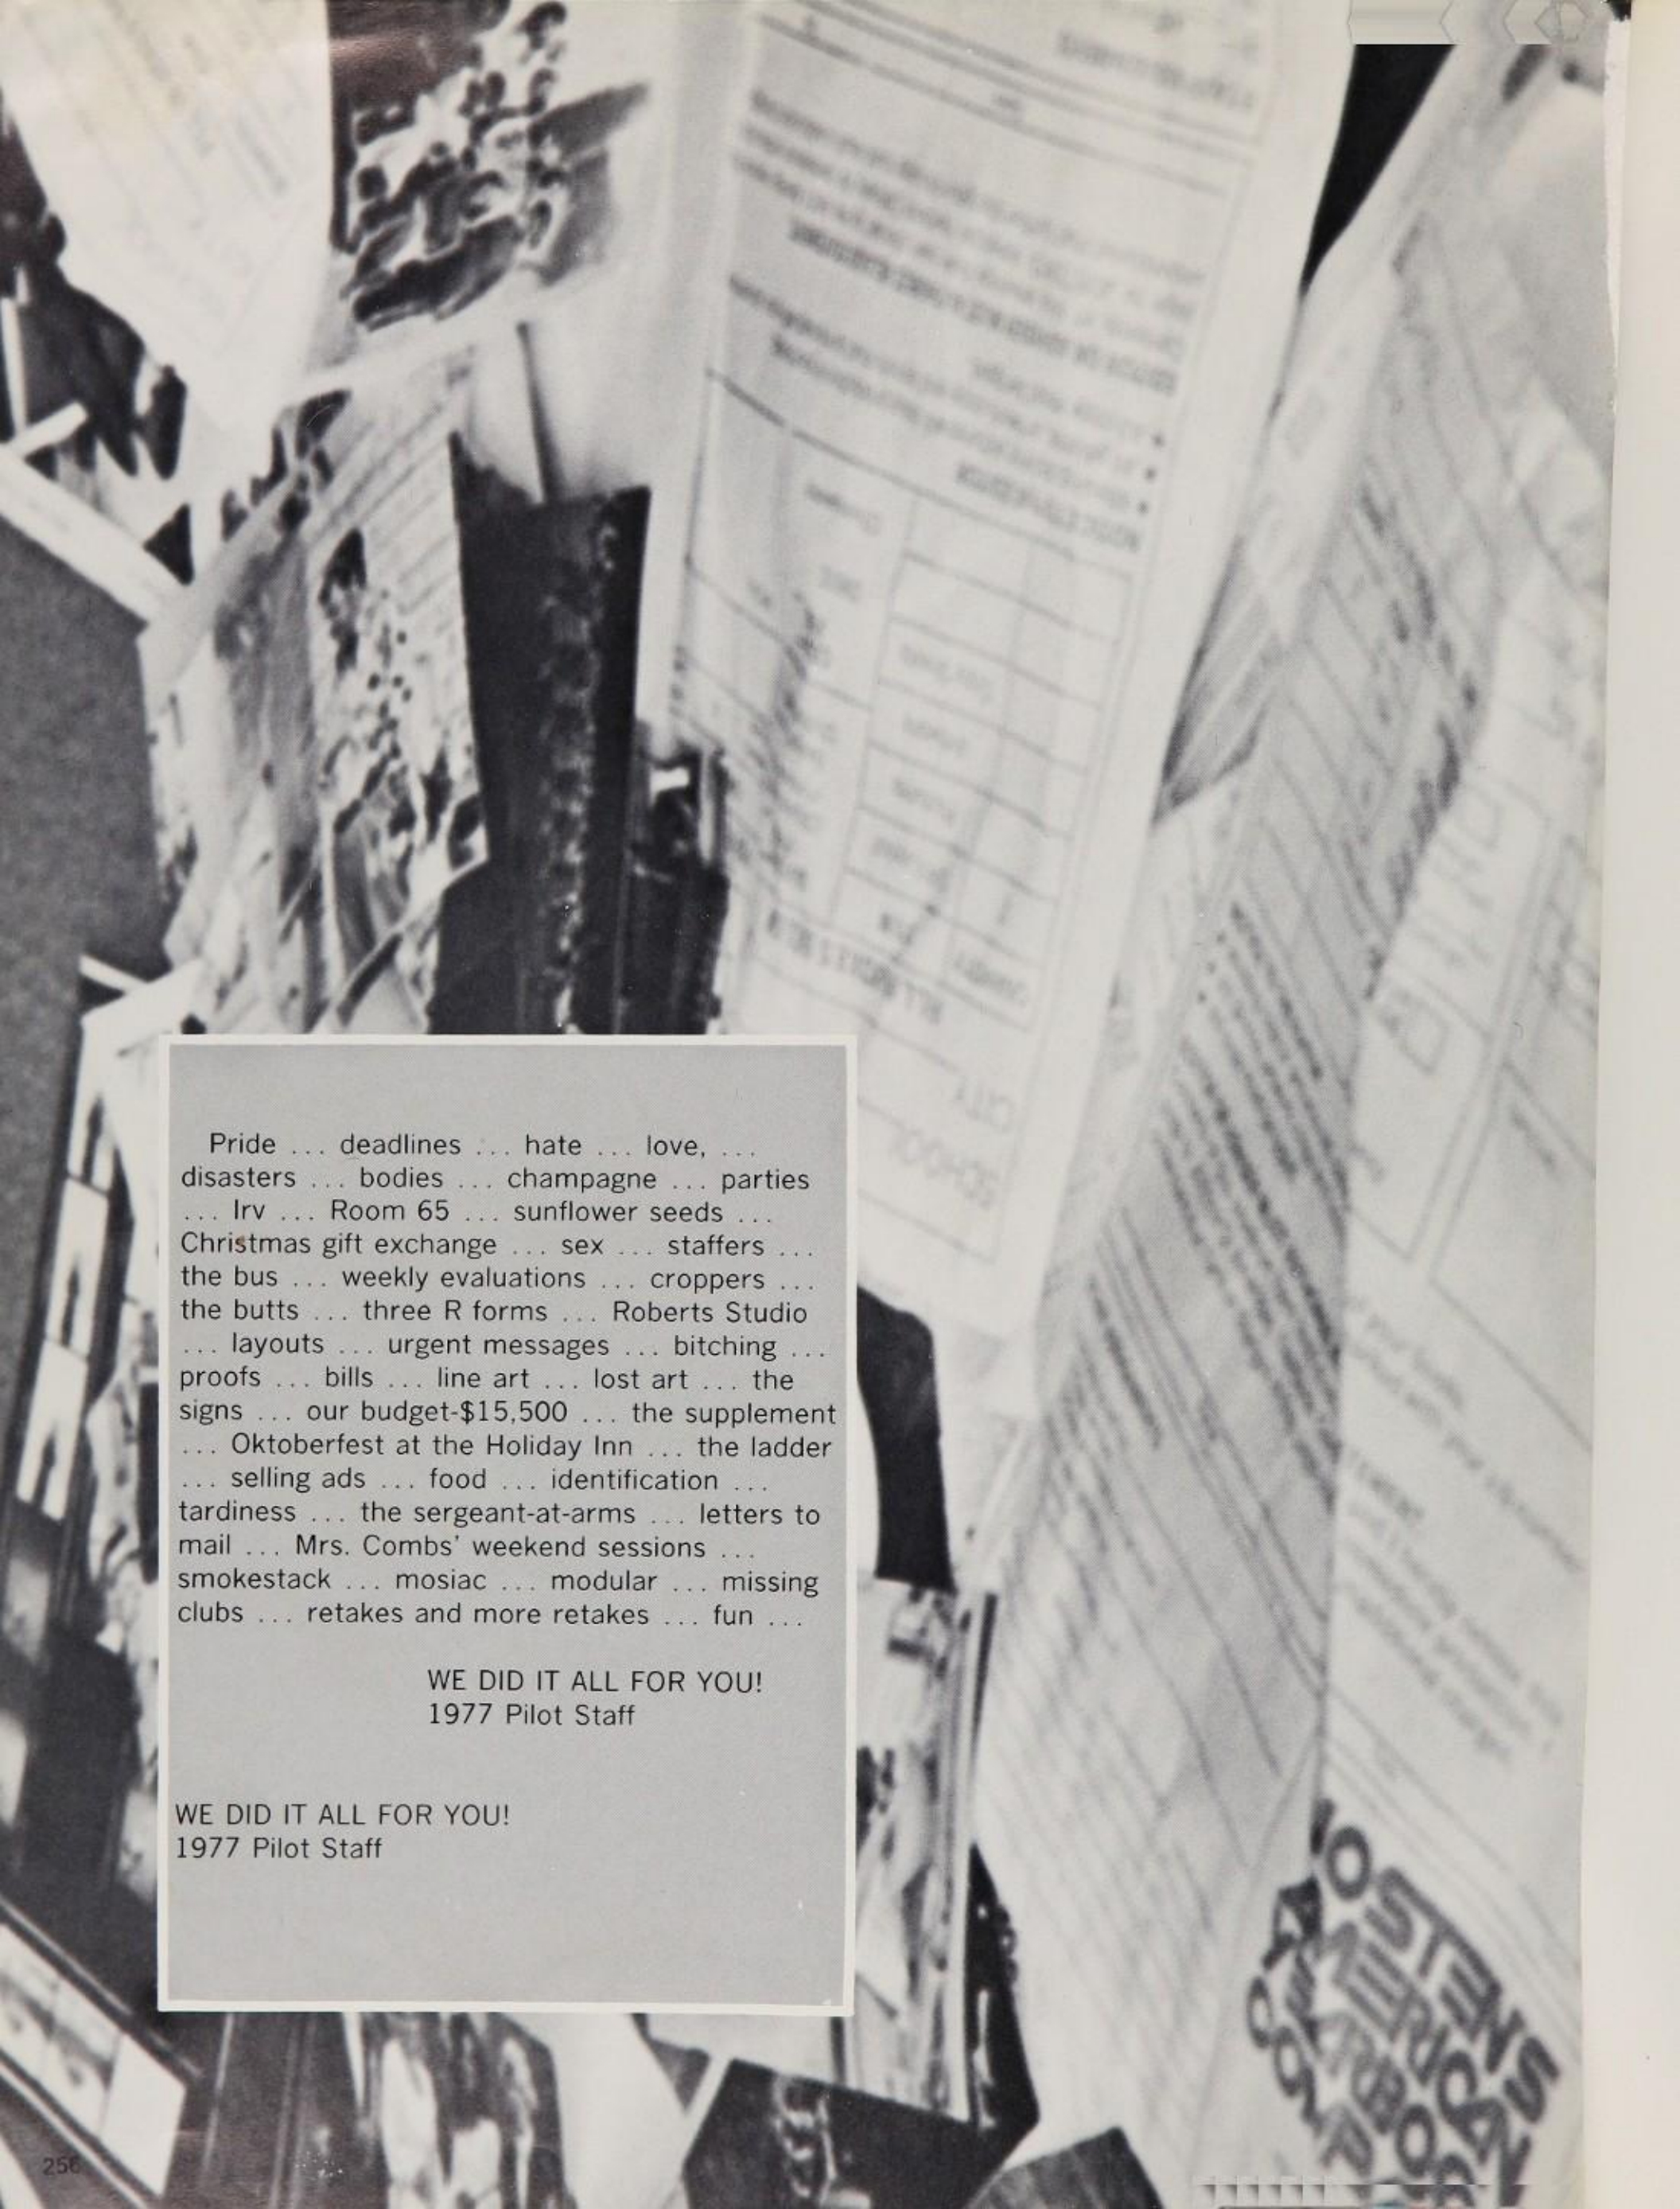

Looking back at all the frustrations and trips to JC's house, the staff jointly agreed that they would not have missed the experience for anything.

Photography editor Karen Hathaway works toward final deadline.

Renee Hattingh expresses, "You haven't lived until you've been on Pilot."
